Growers Defend, NAACP Raps Migrant Policy

By JON POWERS

NEW PALTZ

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People officials from Ulster County were caught off guard Tuesday night when they were informed by area apple growers that foreign migrant laborers are hired only after all available domestic migrants are provided with jobs during the harvest season.

NAACP officials, including Everett Hodge, director of the Ulster County branch, attended a meeting of the Mid-Hudson Apple Growers Association to demand that American workers be hired before Jamaican employes but they were left somewhat abashed when State Labor Department officials said this procedure has been followed in accordance with New York State law for several years.

About 100 area apple growers attended the two-hour meeting in New Paltz and spent most of the time defending their hiring and housing practices and refusing allegations that migrant laborers are treated unfairly.

NAACP members along with members of the Southern Ulster Migrant Assistance Committee (SUMAC) questioned the living conditions and wage rates of migrant workers, charging that they were often abused. These allegations drew strong arguments of protest from the growers who contended that they abide by the laws and regulations established by the State Department of Labor to insure the protection and fair treatment of the migrant workers.

In answer to charges that the migrants are offered sub-standard pay rates, one grower suggested that the traveling laborers are being paid too much. "Many factories pay their employes the $1.60 minimum wage," he said, "but we're paying as much as $20-30 a day for migrant help and we even provide free housing. I'd like to know who is making these laws."

Special

NAACP and SUMAC members apparently were not impressed by the "free housing" clause mentioned by the growers. They cited several instances of poor living conditions within the Mid-Hudson area. But the growers countered by saying that all housing facilities provided for the migrants must first be approved by the State Department of Health and the Federal Housing Department. "The farmer saw to it that legislation was enacted to protect the migrants," said one Dutchess grower, "enforcement of these laws is the responsibility of the government, not the farmers."

The growers emphasized throughout the evening that the migrant workers have had their rights strengthened in recent years. Hodge replied that regulations "don't mean a tinker's damn" unless the workers are adequately informed of their rights. Hodge, along with other members of the NAACP and SUMAC suggested that the workers be educated to their rights so at least they know when they're being abused.

Hodge appeared most dismayed by reports that migrant camp "crew chiefs" were responsible for most of the abuses suffered by the workers. The crew chiefs, it was explained, are persons who organize and accompany groups of migrant laborers and supervise their activities at each job site. When he learned from one Ulster grower that the crew chiefs "make about $4,500 from supervising and another $7,000 from the pay day dice games," Hodge urged that the employers work directly with the migrants, rather than going through a third party, whom he called "racketeers."

Migrant sympathizers hope to hold another meeting with the farmers this summer. They strongly protested suggestions that a meeting be held in the winter, "when the farmers aren't so busy," to discuss specifically the question of worker's rights.

Wallace, Unruh, Murphy, Tunney — All Winners

By the Associated Press

George C. Wallace has won his bid to recapture Alabama's governorship — the likely prelude to another presidential race in 1972 — and Jess Unruh claimed the Democratic nomination against Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Wallace, who overcame a narrow first primary loss, promptly celebrated his victory in Tuesday's Democratic runoff over incumbent Albert P. Brewer by demanding President Nixon "Give us back our schools."

Nearly complete returns gave Wallace 542,154, Brewer 510,442.

In California, Unruh, a slimmed-down version of the man known as "Big Daddy" while speaker of the state's Assembly in the mid-1960s, easily outdistanced Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles. Reagan was unopposed for Republican renomination.

That state's battle of two anti-war Democrats saw Rep. John V. Tunney, son of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney, seemed assured of a victory over Rep. George E. Brown Jr., who once threatened to launch impeachment proceedings against President Nixon because of the U.S. attack into Cambodia.

The winner faces incumbent Sen. George Murphy, the one-time actor and dancer, who defeated millionaire industrialist Norton Simon in the GOP primary. Murphy is a strong supporter of President Nixon's policies in Southeast Asia.

The year's busiest political day so far, with balloting in eight states, saw the renomination of four Democratic senators —Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, John C. Stennis of Mississippi, Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey and Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico.

In the day's only major upset, Gov. David Cargo of New Mexico was defeated for the Republican senatorial nomination by Anderson Carter, a conservative rancher and oil man, who now faces Montoya, victorious over former state Rep. Richard Edwards.

In New Jersey, Williams, a 2-to-1 victor over state Sen. Frank J. Guarini, will meet Nelson G. Gross, former state Republican chairman who easily whipped two opponents.

But a youthful antiwar candidate, 28-year-old Louis Kaden, was defeated 2-to-1 in a bid to unseat Democratic Rep. Edward J. Patten in a contest that saw involvement of hundreds of students from Princeton, Rutgers and other New Jersey colleges.

A similar outpouring of college-aged youth marked California's Democratic senatorial primary, with some 8,000 student volunteers flocking to Brown's banner.

Indochina—Nixon and Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon goes on national television tonight to issue an Indochina progress report, just hours after a key Senate vote on limiting his future Cambodian policy.

The Senate test was on an administration-backed proposal by Kansas Republican Robert J. Dole designed to negate the Cooper-Church amendment that would bar funds for U.S. operations in Cambodia after June 30.

The Senate rejected the Dole amendment by a vote of 54-36.

Backers of stiff legislation to cut off funds for the Cambodian venture after June 30 defeated an amendment they said would have crippled their proposal.

Although defeat of the Dole proposal, which called for allowing the President to use U.S. forces in Cambodia as long as American troops were held prisoner there, had been expected, the action reportedly would not affect Nixon's remarks, scheduled for 9 p.m. EDT.

The President set his speech after meeting with defense and military leaders over the weekend when he reportedly was given optimistic accounts of the month-old Cambodian campaign.

The President's Indochina policy also was under attack in the House today where antiwar members argued for a rider to a bill raising the national debt limit that they said was aimed at forcing a faster withdrawal of U.S. troops from Southeast Asia.

The vote on the Dole proposal was the first real indication of Senate feeling concerning the measure sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., to curb Nixon's powers in Cambodia after June 30, the date the President set for withdrawing all American forces from that country.

Chances for a quick vote on the Cooper-Church amendment itself remained dim since three senators Tuesday accepted the President's invitation to go on a week-long tour of Cambodia and Vietnam.

Republicans John Tower of Texas and George Murphy of California and Democrat Howard Cannon of Nevada scheduled their departure today, along with four House members, three governors and two Nixon advisors.

In the House, war critics sought to speed withdrawal from Indochina with a $6 billion cut in defense spending attached to legislation to increase government borrowing authority.

If they failed, they said, they would attempt to kill the $18-billion increase in the debt ceiling, which Congress must pass in some form by July 1 if the government is to pay its bills.

House members who were named to go on the Vietnam trip were Melvin Price, D-Ill., William G. Bray, R-Ind., O. C. Fisher, D-Tex., and G. William Whitehurst, R-Va.

Most have supported the President's policies in Indochina, as have the three governors who were named by Nixon—Republicans John A. Love of Colorado and Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania and Democrat Robert E. McNair of South Carolina.

Also making the trip will be Bryce N. Harlow, presidential counsellor, and Herbert Klein, White House communications director.

Without disclosing details of the itinerary, an administration spokesman said the group will go into Cambodia to view American and South Vietnamese military operations against North Vietnamese sanctuaries.

South Viets in Helicopter Assault

SAIGON (AP) — Five hundred South Vietnamese troops made a helicopter assault today to link up with the weary defenders of a mountain ridge artillery base battered by two days of attacks in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Following up an early morning hammering by U.S. B52 bombers, American and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers dropped antipersonnel cluster bombs on lower ridgelines within half a mile of beleaguered Firebase Tun Tavern, while the relief force flew into a landing zone about the same distance from the base on the opposite side.

Field reports said there was no resistance as the reinforcements and their U.S. advisers joined the remnants of Tun Tavern's defenders to begin a sweep around the base.

At noon, North Vietnamese mortar crews were still hurling shells into the helicopter pad of the kidney-shaped outpost four miles east of the Laotian border as American medical helicopters wheeled in to take out the dead and wounded.

One helicopter was hit and destroyed this morning.

Losses continued to rise on both sides in the battle for the base, which occupies a narrow ridge 1,600 feet above the Da Krong River valley.

Field reports put government casualties at 50 killed and 119 wounded. The allies say 81 North Vietnamese have been killed.

One American adviser was killed and several U.S. and Australian advisers were wounded in the fighting Tuesday at Tun Tavern, which lies in rugged jungle mountains 21 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

Spokesmen at Quang Tri City said two prisoners captured early today reported gunships which circled the beleaguered base all night firing rockets and miniguns had ruined plans for another full-scale ground assault.

Tun Tavern, a former U.S. Marine artillery base, was occupied by an estimated 500 South Vietnamese infantrymen, artillerymen and engineers when the enemy launched a fierce assault up its slopes before dawn Tuesday.

The assault, described by U.S. officers as a "superbly executed sapper attack," drove beyond the base's barbed wire and outer bunker line to its tactical operations center, where one American was among the defenders killed.

Other officers said unwounded South Vietnamese troops had tried to get aboard medical evacuation helicopters Tuesday night to flee the base.

The U.S. Command announced the death of nine Americans in a helicopter crash Sunday near Loc Ninh, 78 miles north of Saigon, and said the cause of the crash was not known. It was the 3,766th helicopter reported lost in the war.

The command also reported two clashes, one two miles inside Cambodia and the other a mile on the Vietnamese side of the border, in which three Americans were killed and 10 wounded. Enemy losses were not reported. The command said American troops in Cambodia also had found 10 tons of truck parts and more than 1½ tons of rice.

Agnew, at the Point, Again Makes His Point

WEST POINT, N.Y. (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew today criticized the "charlatans of peace and freedom" who, he said, "eulogize foreign dictators while desecrating the flag that keeps them free."

The vice president told the 749 graduating cadets at the U.S. Military Academy that this country is enduring "years of great national confusion, much of it contrived confusion, brought about by a clever, sustained assault on America's system and institutions.

"This is a time when application, achievement and success are derided as callous, corrupt and irrelevant," he said. "This is a time when the criminal misfits of society are glamorized while our best men die in Asian rice paddies to preserve the freedoms those misfits abuse."

The 15,000 attending the West Point commencement warmly applauded Agnew's speech, much of which was in the traditional style of a challenge to a graduating class. There were no demonstrations of any nature.

Agnew's remarks were delivered in a reserved manner. The audience reaction was cordial. He was not interrupted by applause during the speech.

"You are going out into an Army today that has borne the brunt of a lonely and difficult war, far from home, and in the face of open and hostile lack of support from a minority of our citizenry," Agnew said. "Despite that, our deployed forces have stood between our Vietnamese allies and powerful enemies who were on the verge of enslaving them."

Agnew made no reference to the Cambodian war—but made a call for support of the nation's leaders.

"A leader in today's world needs a strong resistance to adversity," the vice president said. "He needs also to realize that leadership in a free society, unable to call on authoritarianism, must rely all the more heavily on the persuasive and inspiring example — on the authority of superior competence and the impact of demonstrated and effective dedication and concern.

"He must be led by resisting and rejecting a way of life in which reckless agitation becomes an end in itself and in which the institutions that have made the republic possible are being gradually destroyed in the name of improving it," Agnew said.

Despite the normal military atmosphere at West Point, Agnew was under unusually heavy security. His black limousine drove onto the field of Michie Stadium, where the ceremonies were held, leaving him directly behind the podium, which at all times separated him from the crowd. The same limousine whisked him off the field after the ceremonies.

Newsman's Body Found by Troops

PHNOM PENH (UPI)—Five of eight television newsmen missing in Cambodia were reported today to have been captured alive by the Viet Cong, but the body of a sixth was found in a fresh grave near the burned out jeep in which he was riding.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said in New York that the body of CBS correspondent George Syvertsen had been identified by his wife, who lives in Phnom Penh.

THOMAS W. MILLER

'Mr. National Guard'

Miller Retires From 156th, Joins 854th Unit

CAMP DRUM

Chief Warrant Officer W4 Thomas W. Miller, 72 Pine Streeet Kingston, often referred to as "Mister National Guard" in Hudson Valley circles has retired from the New York Army National Guard after 21½ years service with the 156th Artillery. He has accepted appointment in the U.S. Army Reserve as personnel officer with the 854th Engineer Battalion (Constr) which is headquarted in Kingston at the USAR armory, Flatbush Avenue. He assumed his new duties with the battalion June 1.

CW4 Miller was 'fulltime National Guard technician with the 156th Artillery serving as the staff administrative specialist and, in addition, assistant adjutant and public information officer. For a number of years, in addition to his regular assignments, he conducted radio broadcasts from Camp Drum while local units were undergoing annual training. He served as unit historian and was the Civil War centennial project officer. He was indirectly responsible for the establishment of the Civil War room at the Senate House museum, Kingston.

Miller has also accepted a Civil Service appointment with the local USAR unit and will serve as the staff administrative specialist for the battalion which is under the command of Major Bronislaus Hudela, Kingston.

Miller was appointed to his present grade, highest in the Warrant Officer Corps, in October 1964. He served during World War II in the EAME as a Master Sergeant with Hq. 34th Infantry (Red Bull) Divison. He served in Africa and during four campaigns in Italy and was discharged in November 1945. He enlisted in the Guard as a Private in December 1948 and received his initial Warrant in October 1949.

Miller holds a perfect attendance record with the National Guard. In September 1969 he was awarded the New York State Medal for 20 years long and faithful service, and Armed Forces Reserve Medal device for 20 years Reserve service. He entered the military service in February 1943 at Kingston.

Miller served as secretary to former Mayor Conrad J. Heiselman (1937-1941), Kingston, also was secretary to the Kingston Charter Revision committee in 1948. For many years he has been an active lay leader in the Methodist Church. He is a graduate of Kingston High School and the Moran School of Business. He holds memberships in the Militia Association of New York, National Guard Association of the U.S., 34th Infantry Division Assn. and several other military associations.

Miller is the son of Levi Miller and the late Mrs. Jane Miller, 137 Clinton Avenue. He is married to the former Miss Lois Stall of Kingston. They have one daughter, Nancy Jane, an English honors graduate of State University of New York at Albany.

Announcement of Miller's retirement from the Guard and appointment in the USAR was noted by LTC Frank B. Aceto, commander of the 156th, at Camp Drum.

Aceto Leaving Service

CAMP DRUM

Lt. Col. Frank B. Aceto, 135 West Street, Newburgh, commanding officer of the 1st Battalion, 156th Artillery, New York Army National Guard, will retire from the military service June 15 after more than 35 years service during which he rose from the ranks to command the oldest military unit in the State. He has been in command of the 156th Artillery since July 1967 wh7en he succeeded Lieutenant Colonel Frank Fabbie of Kingston.

The 156th returned from annual training at Camp Drum Memorial Day. The announcement of Col. Aceto's retirement was made at Camp Drum. His successor will be announced later through the commander, 27th Brigade NYARNG, with headquarters at Syracuse. The 156th is attached to that unit for administration as a part of the New York Army National Guard.

Col. Aceto enlisted as a Private in the New York National Guard in May 1935 in "M" company, 14th Infantry Regt, Brooklyn, and became a T/Sergeant with the 107th Field Artillery when it was federalized in February 1941. He served as a platoon sergeant and as operations sergeant in the Artillery.

During World War II, he was assigned to the 955th Field Artillery and saw service in France, Belgium, Luxemburg, Germany and Czechoslovakia. He took part in the Normandy invasion and the battle of Ardennes. He was awarded the Bronze Star, Army of Occupation Medal, American Campaign Medal, World War II Victory Medal, five battle stars, four overseas bars and since WW II, the Armed Forces Reserve Medal and the New York State Long and Faithful Service Medals for 25 and 30 years. Before his release from active duty in 1945, Col. Aceto served with the occupation forces as a sergeant major of a prisoner of war camp in Germany.

Aceto was commissioned in November 1947, upon reorganization and reactivation of the National Guard's 955th Field Artillery in Brooklyn. He transferred to the 170th Field Artillery of Newburgh when he held a variety of duty assignments, including assistant executive officer and commanding officer of a firing battery and later commander of a service battery. He served as the battalion assistant S3 and in December 1952 was promoted to the grade of Captain. In July 1963, he was promoted to the grade of Major, Field Artillery.

As a member of the 27th Division Artillery staff in Albany, Aceto served as S4 (logistics officer) and assistant fire support coordinator for five battalions. Upon reorganization of the National Guard in February 1968, he continued in command of the 156th to which he transferred in July 1967. The 156th had been expanded to take in the 170th Artillery of Newburgh and the 2nd Battalion, 156th Artillery of Poughkeepsie. The 156th Artillery now has units in three cities with a total strength of some 500 officers and men.

Col. Aceto owns and operates Frankie's Garage in Newburgh. He is married to the former Miss Fay Falcone of Brooklyn. They have two daughters, Mrs. James Nielson of Killeen, Texas and Donna Fay who resides at home and is a student attending Newburgh Free Academy.

Change of command ceremonies at the State Armory, North Manor Avenue, Kingston, are scheduled June 14 at 2 p.m. when the newly appointed battalion commander will receive the colors from Col. Aceto and review the entire battalion on the Armory green.

'Yungay Population Practically Disappears'

Peru Quake, Floods May Have Killed 30,000

LIMA (UPI)—The Public Health Ministry said floods triggered by Peru's devastating earthquake may have killed more than 17,000 persons in the Andes city of Yungay, where survivors huddled today in a cemetery awaiting rescue.

"The population practically has disappeared," said Ministry spokesman Jose Garaychochea. "There are only 2,500 survivors in a population estimated at 20,000 in Yungay."

The presidential press office has estimated as many as 30,000 persons may have been killed in the 'quake Sunday and subsequent floods that ravaged northern Peru from the desert coast to the Amazon jungle.

Paratroopers worked to clear an airstrip at Huaraz so supplies could be flown in to the stricken inhabitants of Yungay and other cities in the Callejon de Huylas Valley.

Towns Swept Away

The cities of Yungay and Caraz in the valley in the Andes 250 miles northeast of Lima were sept away by floods when the quake caused Llanganuco Lake to burst its dams, the government reported.

PERUVIAN FAMILY SIFTS THROUGH THE WRECKAGE (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Dozens of foreign countries sent aid, ranging from frozen chickens to sophisticated water filter equipment and hospital units, but the big problem was still how to deliver it.

Landslides and yawning cracks opened by the quake blocked roads. Bad weather limited air drops Tuesday. Some cities were invisible from the air, masked by an 18,000 foot thick cloud of dust.

One of the first persons to fly over the area, Don Mathis of the U.S. Information Service in Lima, said there were few signs of life in the valley.

Mathis was aboard a U.S. Air Force C130 Hercules cargo plane that made reconaissance flight over the area Tuesday afternoon to give 24 Air Force rescue experts a chance to survey the damage.

Destruction Is Total

Destruction of homes in small towns and villages in the interior was described as total. In Huaraz it was estimated 95 per cent of the homes were damaged.

Ham radio reports said the towns of Casma and Huarmey looked as if they had been bombed from the air. Hospitals were reported to be unable to cope with the influx of dead and dying, many of whom were placed on the floors of corridors.

Families were said to be performing funeral services in the open and burying their dead where they lay.

The government Tuesday declared an eight day mourning period for the victims.

Argentina Orders Death in Kidnapings

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—The Argentine military government responded to the reported slaying of kidnaped former President Pedro Eugenio Aramburu with a presidential decree today ordering death by firing squad for kidnapers who seriously hurt or kill their victims.

President Juan Carlos Ongania went on national radio and television promising "to guarantee peace and order whatever the price" amid fears of civil strife following a terrorist group's claim Tuesday that it had executed the former president.

Ongania said the nation received with "stupor" the announcement from the Juan Jose Valle commando group, an organization that supports exiled former dictator Juan D. Peron. He accused the group of carrying out "an inhumane sentence that outrages the Argentine people."

Ongania's speech early today left little doubt the government believed the commando claim Aramburu was dead. Aramburu's former police chief, Aldo Luis Molinari, said "I think Ongania's speech and the death penalty law don't give us another interpretation."

The president appealed for national unity, saying "the most clear homage" that could be paid Aramburu was law and order. Aramburu supporters had promised to take to the streets against Personists if he was slain.

The new antiterrorist law authorizes the execution of kidnapers, airline hijackers and persons who attack military camps, in addition to establishing lesser penalties for such crimes as wearing a military uniform without authorization.

Four men two of them dressed in army uniforms, kidnaped Aramburu, 67, from his home Friday. The Juan Jose Valle group claimed credit for the kidnap and said Aramburu would be executed for ordering the executions of 35 persons, including Gen. Juan Jose Valley, in 1956.

Another note found Tuesday said the sentence on Aramburu had been carried out at 7 a.m. It said Aramburu would be given a Christian burial but his body would not be returned until the body of Eva Peron was "returned to the people."

Both Peronist and anti-Peronist groups called news conferences Tuesday and appealed to their supporters to remain calm. The Peronists said they had nothing to do with the kidnaping. Anti-Peronists, including government officials, attributed the kidnap to "foreign extremists."

Two More Israeli Schoolers Killed

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab guerrillas in Jordan fired two waves of rockets into the frontier town of Beit Shean today, killing two schoolchildren and wounding at least seven others, the Israeli military command announced.

They were the third group of casualties among Israeli schoolchildren in two weeks. Another rocket attack on Beit Shean Monday killed a schoolgirl, and a guerrilla ambush of a schoolbus on the Lebanese border killed eight children and four adults on May 22.

In the first attack across the Jordan River today, one rocket crashed into a house, killing a 9-year-old girl, while others wounded three girls and a 38-year-old woman.

An hour and a half later, several more of the Soviet Katyusha rockets were fired at the town and at least one hit a school building, killing a boy and wounding four of his classmates, initial reports said.

The reports said the rocket set a classroom afire, and police and rescue workers were searching for more victims.

Israeli forces returned the fire, but there was no immediate word on the results.

Rockets also struck the settlement of Moaz Haim, two miles from Beit Shean, but no casualties were reported.

A bomb exploded in Jerusalem early today, a few hours before the start of the official celebration of the third anniversary of Israel's conquest of the Arab sector. There were no casualties in the blast.

Although the third anniversary does not come until Sunday on the Gregorian calendar used by most other nations, the Jewish calendar used by Israel puts the date today.

Explosives also were set off on two popular Israeli beaches, but again there were no casualties.

Raiding Israeli warplanes returned safely late Tuesday from their fifth strike in 24 hours against Egyptian targets along the Suez Canal, the military command said. The five attacks pounded Egyptian positions for 11 hours, the military said.

In Cairo, a military spokesman claimed that one Israeli Skyhawk was downed in the raids. He said five Egyptian soldiers were killed and five wounded.

The Israelis have intensified their attacks against Egyptian positions on the canal, trying to block placement of Soviet antiaircraft missiles there. Air missions into Egypt this week were the most prolonged since the 1967 war, the Israeli state radio said.

Visiting Professor in Paltz Talk

NEW PALTZ

Dr. Patrick Meares, professor of chemistry at the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, has returned to Aberdeen after a three day trip to the United States to speak at State University College, New Paltz, in the College's "Frontiers in Chemistry" lecture series.

He reported that not only was he surprised at the pleasant surroundings at New Paltz but he also said he found the students to be serious and capable, and that he sensed a feeling among the science students of enthusiasm about their subject which usually one finds more among graduate students working on advanced degrees. He said he found the staff to be "very alive and up to the minute."

Saying he expected to find a somewhat smaller college surrounded by small industrial plants, he said he was delighted at the college's rural location.

He came to present two lectures on macromolecules before more than forty industrial scientists attending the last meeting of a six-week Frontiers in Chemistry lecture series presented by the College's Department of Chemistry and the Center for Continuing Education.

Dr. Meares also visited several chemistry classes at New Paltz during his three days stay to the United States and he spoke with members of the science faculty and others.

Frontiers in Chemistry Lecture Series is chaired by Dr. Angelos V. Patsis, professor of chemistry at New Paltz, and one of the developers of DuPont's "Corfam" material "Corfam" is macromolecular in structure. Other professors speaking during the Frontiers series were from the University of Massachusetts, Washington University, E. I du Pont de Nemours, Air Force Materials Laboratory, and Case Western Reserve University.

The Scottish professor is specializing at present on research elated to plastic membranes and their use in separating substances in liquids. His research includes study of membranes used to separate salt from sea-water to make the water available for drinking. Dr. Meares said that although the normal way of thinking about the problem would involve moving the water through the membrane and leaving the salt behind, the more efficient approach might be to move the salt and leave the water since the salt involves less than 4 per cent of the weight of the sea-water.

Dr. Meares said that the earliest - developed artificial membrane made of cellulose-acetate—celleophane—has been the most successful in application. Since other membranes made of newer substances have been less efficient, he said that part of his research is to attempt to determine what happens within the cellophane membrane during the process to make it work.

Paltz TEACH Has Programs On Drug Abuse

NEW PALTZ

The Education and Counseling House (TEACH), a branch of New Paltz Narcotics Guidance Council, has completed a week of programs aimed at reducing drug abuse in the community.

On Monday night TEACH introduced the Senior Citizens' President, James DeSandis, and the Vice-President, Frank Pellettieri to several members of the Student Drug Council to find areas where the two groups might work together.

On Tuesday night TEACH introduced 25 adults to members of the the Student Drug Council. The students showed a film on LSD and them spoke about the things they have set up and accomplished in the high school to combat drug abuse.

On Thursday night TEACH brought together the Student Drug Council and several college students interested in reducing the reported drug problem at the college. It was noted at this time that the college is designing a course for next fall on drug problem at the college. It was noted at this time that the college is designing a course for next fall on drug abuse. It was reported that the course will be open to the public and will meet for three hours at a time.

Burroughs Unit Going to Cruger

KINGSTON

On Saturday members of the John Burroughs Natural History Society will take a field trip to Cruger Island. Those interested in attending should meet at 8 a.m. at the first intersection (Rt. 199 and River Road) after crossing the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, east Bound.

The leader of this trip will be Alice Jones, a naturalist. Lunch will be brought by members.

Businessmen Circulate Petitions

'Self-Preservation' in Rhinebeck

By TIM SCHUSTER

RHINEBECK — "Self-preservation" seems to be the key word among the many businesses of Rhinebeck this week, as they combine to combat what they consider to be a contrary interest.

According to hardware store proprietor Bernhard Steding, a petition has been circulated among the community businesses asking that Astor Flats, north of the village, not be rezoned commercial or highway business in the proposed zoning ordinance.

Steding told The Freeman Tuesday night that "about 95 per cent" of the businesses in the area had signed this petition, which will be presented to the Town Board at its June 10 meeting.

Robert Fried, a Rhinebeck and Hyde Park industrialist, has affirmed at both public zoning hearings held thus far that his interests intend to build a shopping center along this stretch of Route 9 south of the intersection with 9G. This would be made much easier if the land, owned by Mrs. Jennie Kennett, were to be rezoned from its present residential and farmland category.

He made a formal request htat the Planning Board recommend rezoning this land, containing about 1,000 acres of Mrs. Kennett's, to commercial or highway business.

This has occasioned the petition from the predominantly village business persons who fear that a shopping plaza would detract from their business.

Steding said that the property if rezoned, would not be "in the best interest of the community, as the board would lose all control over it."

He added that he did not oppose anyone's right to erect a shopping center, but that if the 50-acre minimum planned subdivision were used by the developer that a plan would have to be submitted to the Planning Board of Appeals first for ratification.

Helen Battistoni, local realtor and president of the Rhinebeck Chamber of Commerce, said that she had not been approached with the petition, but would not have signed it because she has a professional interest in the Kennett property.

She said the Chamber had not had any lengthy discussions on the rezoning issue, although the limited talks she had heard indicated that "for the most part people have accepted it."

"A shopping center is bound to hurt other local business to some extent," she said, but noted that many of the same people now travel to shopping plazas in Kingston anyway. She said that a local plaza would probably attract more shoppers to Rhinebeck and that some would inevitably browse through the village downtown, which is about two miles from the proposed shopping center site.

Mrs. Battistoni added that the Chamber will conduct a survey this summer to determine what the shopping habits of Rhinebeck persons really are. This should be ready by September.

The merchants' petition will be presented to the Town Board at its next meeting, according to Steding. This meeting is scheduled for June 10 at the Rhinecliff Firehouse, instead of the Town Hall.

Town Supervisor William Allen noted to The Freeman that the Town Board will meet with the Planning Board the following evening, June 11, in a closed session to hash out some answer to this irearousing problem.

Planning Board Chairman Homer K. Staley has repeatedly asked that the zoning ordinance be pushed as fast as possible to avoid numerous persons from violating its purpose while it is in limbo.

He cited eight such actions at the most recent hearing. He has come out in favor of retaining the present residential-agricultural appellation for the Astor Flats area, and suggested that the business interests make use of the 50-acre minimum subdivision regulations in the proposed law.

Fish Plans to Meet With James Buckley

By LYNN MULVANEY

WASHINGTON — An invitation to meet Conservative Party candidate for U.S. Senate from New York, James L. Buckley in Washington has been accepted by Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr.

The invitation came from Republican Congressman Martin McKneally of Newburgh who said Monday he is considering endorsing Buckley for the Senate over Republican candidate Charles E. Goodell.

Others in New York State who have not yet taken a position on the Senate race include Congressman Robert C. McEwen of Ogdensburg, James R. Grover Jr. of Nassau County and Carleton J. King of Saratoga Springs, all of whom are conservatively-endorsed Republicans.

Congressman Fish, who has always run only on the Republican ticket, has remained a staunch party man feeling he would run with whomever is on the GOP party line. Although he could not be reached for comment prior to the McKneally invitation, his administrative assistant John Barry told The Freeman, Fish planned to attend the meeting as a congressional courtesy.

Barry also commented however that new and recent comment concerning Goodell has been triggered by the Senator's threat to withdraw his support of President Nixon in 1972. In view of this, a certain amount of reciprocity might be in order, he suggested.

The present positions of the House members point to the problem Goodell may have in holding on to GOP support.

Any open defections to Buckley by House members of their failure to support Goodell would be highly unusual among traditional Republican ranks.

Interviewed Monday, McKneally said, "Certainly I am considering Jim Buckley very seriously and I'm not considering Goodell very seriously."

Referring to the fact that Buckley is also a enrolled Republican, McKnealley said, "The question Goodell has posed to all of us is, can we support him when he has split himself so totally from the Republican administration?"

Congressman Comments On the Benefits Law

KINGSTON — "A new ax has been laid to the root of an old problem," said Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. this week in speaking of the House-passed amendment to the Social Security Law which will place benefits for the first time on an automatic cost of living scale.

"Actually," he explained, "the Social Security Amendments for 1970 reached the floor of the House without this important amendment. It was added during floor debate, a fairly unusual thing in itself. If this amendment now passes the Senate and is signed into law, it will mean that for the first time in history Social Security recipients will be afforded the same automatic protection against inflation our civil service retirees have enjoyed since 1962, and military retirees have had since 1950, the Congressman added.

"Most important for the economic and emotional well being of our senior citizens I believe, is the fact that no longer will they have to depend upon an often reluctant and always deliberate Congress for benefit increases needed to keep an inadequate fixed income in line with rising living costs. Willing or not, they had to pay their money into the program. Willing or not, the program will no longer allow their incomes to be eroded by inflationary pressures over which they have no control, and from which they have no recourse. This is as it should be.

"That the concept of such automatic benefit increases is long overdue is illustrated by a recent study which indicates the total amount of benefit increases doled out by Congress between 1954 and the end of last year, was nearly identical with increases which would have been provided by automatic cost of living increases.

"The crucial difference is that during that same period of time Congress increased benefits only three times, which meant a long delay and unnecessary hardship for our senior citizens between these imposed increases.

"How badly out of step the reality of the cost of living Social Security benefits had become under the present system can be illustrated by the fact that after a 15 per cent benefit increase this year, an additional five per cent increase was approved which will go into effect Jan. 1, 1971. This means that benefits had lagged behind buying power to such an extent that in the opinion of Congress, a 20 per cent increase within a 12 month period was needed to get 26.2 million beneficiaries back to a purchasing power they had in 1965.

The House version of the bill also increases the earning exemption from $1,680.00 to $2,000.00 and although it falls short of the $2,400.00 I had been advocating, I backed the measure as at least a step in the right direction. Another liberalization of the present law was the new ruling on widow's or widower's benefits, which will enable survivors to receive 100 per cent of the primary insurance amount at age 65, which is an increase over the present 82½ per cent.

shift in widow's and widower's

"But although the upward benefits, the additional five per cent across-the-board benefit increase, and the increase in the amount of earned income permissible before benefits are lost are all important forward steps, the one I view as the most important for the long haul is the concept of tying benefits to an automatic cost of living.

Muchachos 1st In Dietz Show

KINGSTON — The Muchachos Drum and Bugle Corps of Hawthorne, N.J., took first place in the Pow Wow Preview Show held Memorial Day evening in Dietz Stadium.

There were 2500 drum corps fans attending the Pow Wow.

In addition to their trophy, the Muchachos have won the privilege of competing in the Pow Wow of Junior Champions Show to be held at Dietz Stadium on August 15.

The Metropolitan-All American Judges scored the Corps as follows: 1. Muchachos, 74; 2. Riversiders (New York City), 60.30; 3. Medina Temple (New York), 46.35 with a 4 penalty; and 4. Enfield Saber (Conn.), 45.95 with a 1 penalty.

The New York Knickerbockers also performed but did not enter in competition due to the extensive drill changes made during the previous week.

Also appearing in exhibition was the Kingston Indians and their feeder corps, Troop 12 Indians, who sponsored this first contest of the Greater New York Drum Corps Circuit, to which the Indians belong.

Nixon Can Reunite Country

A funny thing happened to President Nixon the other night on his way to his San Clemente retreat. He stopped off at Knoxville, Tenn., and was given a hearty welcome by an estimated 75,000 persons who crowded into a stadium built to seat about 60,000. Not only did they receive him with open arms, but they listened to him without interruption all the way through his talk. They drowned out a comparative handful of dissenters.

The point here is that perhaps the President should consider going out to the country this way. The White House has more or less resigned itself to believing that even the office of the President of the United States would be besmirched by screaming dissenters who would be present at a talk but would refuse to listen. Maybe Knoxville proves otherwise. To be contrariwise, it could be said that the South has taken a liking to Mr. Nixon, notwithstanding that that is normally almost solid Democratic territory, and that elsewhere the reception would be quite different.

All we say to that is that there has been an awakening in this country these past few weeks which has been reflected for one thing in letters to newspapers. Editors are being swamped with writers protesting campus dissent, and desecration of the flag, particularly the latter. Regrettable as was the violence and the beating up of long-haired kids in Wall Street by the so-called hard hats, or construction workers, it proved that Middle America, or the silent majority, if you wish, was getting fed up with what they were seeing and hearing and were joining behind the President's policies to end the Southeast Asia war.

Heretofore little organized protest had been heard from the silent majority. Little, that is, until the kids started abusing the flag. It was only a symbolic thing they were doing, thoughtless to be sure, but it seems to have galvanized the nation. We'd like to believe that Mr. Nixon could come North and have an audience that would listen to him. There would be vocal dissenters to be sure, but they might meet the same fate as did those in Knoxville.

The Tennesseans, good Democrats all, have proved that when our country is reaching a crisis stage, it doesn't matter what political stripe the President wears. The hard hats, few of whom, it is safe to bet, voted for Mr. Nixon, also made the same point. Even Sen. Mark Hatfield, who addressed the Chamber of Commerce dinner this week, and who is co-author of an amendment on the war that the President would rather do without, spoke of the need for reconciliation of what he termed a divided country.

We do not believe the country is as divided as some would make it out to be. But whatever diversion there is, President Nixon, paradoxical as it may sound, is really the one who can bring about a reunion. And he can do this, not by altering his course in Southeast Asia, but by going out to the people.

$250 Billion Stock Loss

The stock market slide has already cost investors in New York Stock Exchange issues some $200 billion, knowledgeable observers estimate. By the end of May, the Dow-Jones industrial average had fallen from its Dec. 5, 1968 high of 985 to 665, an 18-month plunge of 320 points, or almost one-third of the paper value it had built in its rise.

By including lesser exchanges and the commodity markets, the total paper loss would be closer to $250 billion. A graph of the decline looks like a series of steps, with the investor bumping down on sharp rises and falls, up to March, when it has all been down.

Despite this huge paper loss, there has been no panic, simply puzzlement. President Nixon even stated to a group of businesmen on April 3, "Frankly, if I had any money, I'd buy stocks right now." He was echoing the old advice of J. P. Morgan, the financial wizard, that ran something like this, "Buy when the market is down, sell when it is up."

Investors, large and small, are suffering from the slump in stocks. As Attorney General John N. Mitchell recently told Southern industrialists, "The Administration is quite properly concerned, since many decisions in the securities market are based on fears rather than on facts."

Mitchell promised "a new steadiness of progress—stability of prices to the consumer, opportunity to the wage earner and the investor, and a less frantic and more rewarding way of life to the people who make their living in Wall Street . . . It will become increasingly apparent that—in our time and with this President—it is not a good idea to sell this country short."

The indicators bear out Mitchell's analysis. Despite unemployment, total employment is holding up, retail sales are at their dollar peak, the inflation psychology is decreasing. It must not be replaced by any recession psychology. The psychology of price stability and economic growth, which is a fact, can pull the country through this crisis.

The Loneliest Job in the World

David Lawrence Says

Vice President Agnew Is Different, Attracts Attention

WASHINGTON — Nobody inside or outside of politics really can say positively what makes a good or bad vice president. For there are no standards of measurement. But Spiro T. Agnew is in a class by himself and performs many a function that other presidents would have wished they had someone to do in their hectic struggles with critics.

Unfortunately, a president cannot answer all the biting remarks that are made from day to day on Capitol Hill or by the press. His cabinet officers are engrossed in their own departmental tasks. So Vice President Agnew has assumed the job of defending the administration and at the same time expressing, in rather newsy language, the rebuttal. No Vice President in a half-century has attracted as much attention as Spiro Agnew. He gets some bitter words of reproach, but he goes on undaunted. Invitations to speak flood his desk.

While Mr. Agnew makes some satirical speeches, he occasionally delves into serious matters with significant information which he evidently has checked carefully in advance with the knowledgeable experts inside the administration. A case in point was the speech he delivered last Thursday during a Republican luncheon at Huntington, Long Island. Many a high official would have hesitated to talk publicly about the stock market in these critical days, but the Vice President didn't. The market continued upward that same afternoon and the next day. Here is what he said:

"Businessmen I've spoken to recently have made it clear that Cambodia has been a big influence in the market slide. Peace is bullish, and there are three fears that are currently prevalent:

"First, that we have widened the war; second, the withdrawals of our troops might be discontinued; and third, that the Cambodian operation will add to our budget and thus to the inflationary spiral.

"These fears are totally unfounded. As a matter of fact, if you have been making investment decisions on the basis of these fears, I suggest you take a hard look at reality.

"The war has not been widened. We are not about to get into any war in Cambodia, nor are we about to assume the responsibility for training the Cambodian Army. The President has made that clear and, as the North Vietnamese have discovered, the President is a man of his word.

"The Cambodian operation has seriously disrupted the enemy, assisted the Vietnamization process, and protected our plans to withdraw at least 150,000 additional U.S. troops as announced by the President. Thanks to the most successful miltiary move since the Inchon landing in the Korean War, we can continue our withdrawal program without endangering the lives of the men remaining there next spring.

"Finally, the federal budget is not going to be increased as a result of the Cambodian move. In fact, it will help us move from a war economy to a consumer economy by hastening the day when the American troops are completely out of there and adding to the incentive for the communists to make peace...

"I don't claim to be an expert on the stock market, but if I had to make a decision today on the basis of the chances for peace, I would feel 10 per cent more assured than I would have 30 days ago."

Then the Vice President proceeded to throw in some figures that didn't appear in the headlines but must have made a deep impression on the businessmen in the New York area who heard them. He pointed out that total employment was at an all-time high in March 1970 and only slightly less in April. Actually, there were almost 1,500,000 more persons employed in April 1970 than in April 1969. Real per capita income — what individuals have available to spend after allowing for taxes and inflation — Mr. Agnew said, was at the highest rate in history in the first quarter of 1970. He added that "there is clear evidence that total production will begin rising soon, probably in the third quarter."

The Vice President also plainly intimated that the administration would not go for wage-and-price controls which, he remarked, "no one would want one month after they had been put into effect." He said that the administration "will not permit the increase in the cost of living to rise unabated" and will "continue to take the responsible middle course of cooling inflation steadily and surely, mindful of the concerns of workers, investors and consumers."

It was the kind of speech about the administration's reasoning which may indeed have helped to sustain the big rally in the stock market last week.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The readers' columns of the newspapers have become increasingly malicious. They tear down the editorial writers, the columnists, and they resolve the chronic illnesses of our country with ease and aplomb. I hope the readers understand that there is no compulsion on the part of the editor to publish material which amounts to a pie in the eye.

And yet I must confess that I tire of letters which endorse the editor, the publisher, and the columnists. They are wilted roses at best, and sometimes they sound as though the editor wrote them to himself.

The country is divided as never before, including the Civil War. Then our forebears had a choice of one of two sides. Now we are divided black against white; medicare against sound money; three members of the Cabinet opposed the President's policies; rising hospital costs against increased hospital business; taxes against augmented income; war against peace; students against authority; drug pushers against police.

The Readers' Columns are filled with the pro and con of these matters every day. This makes the matter more interesting than less. Chambers of Commerce at one time wrote notes to the editor thanking him for his generous coverage of the luncheons. Or a ranking cleric or civil servant wrote to condone or condemn a matter religious or municipal.

I am in favor of the livelier and deadlier letters. Sweet talk is a discount bargain. But I would ask of you who learn from reading that the once solid United States of America is now in fragments. Few readers take pen in hand to endorse anyone or anything.

Hostility isn't a bad emotion, but hate is. Some of the phrases are so violent and obscene that they must be edited before they can be published. The war, I am convinced, is not in Vietnam; it is here. Not even the Negores can unite. Of 22,000,000 fewer than one million have participated in active protest marches. The Panthers preach death and would like to secede form the United States; the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is so mild that it wants to win all its battles in court.

Normally sweet old ladies write — or rather, print — dirty notes which could never be published. The worst offenders are those who do not sign their names. These are the true cowards; the Peeping Toms of the written word.

And yet, as a constant letter reader, I feel that neither people nor their sentiments have changed. The wild ones have emerged from the woodwork. They used to swallow their hate and save it for the children at the dinner table. Today, opinions are freer than ever, and, no matter which side you take, your judgment has a veneer of validity. Someone, somewhere, believes you.

The publication of such letters makes the writer feel important. He sees his words published and it gives him a sense of superiority unless, of course, two or three days later, a contrary letter stabs him with his won pen.

Most epistles do not convert readers — they polarize the groups. We applaud the opinions of those who agree with us. The clever haters select phrases and sentences uttered by public officials which lend an assist to the letter writer's venom. Anything the writer might regard as an honorable utterance — that is, one which matches his — is omitted.

In spite of the fact that I read the readers' letters first, I am convinced that none of them has altered the town, the county, the state or the country a whit. Like yesterday's newspapers, they are good only if one wants to wrap a fish.

In New York, I was asked by an editor to take charge of the readers' column as well as executive other duties. I found that this particular newspaper — which had 900,000 circulation — received an average of six letters a day, mostly dreary endorsements of something the paper had published.

So I wrote a fake letter and tossed it in the readers' section. All it said was: "I would rather kill my daughter than have her go out on a date with a sailor. A mother."

In the first week, the gray mail sacks, bulging with protests, numbered 8,000 letters. Five months later, we were getting nasty notes from the Asiatic fleet.

Keep those letters and cards coming in, kiddies.

Jack Anderson Says

Presidential Aides Seek To Keep Newsmen in Dark

WASHINGTON — Sooner or later, after a decent honeymoon period, the President and the press must quarrel. For every President invariably has sought to regulate the flow of information to the public, and the press has responded by accusing him of trying to manage the news.

It is only natural, of course, for a President to want to show his best side to the public. Invariably, he is thwarted by the news media which presents the facts in a different light than he would like. Thus an amiable hostility has grown up between the man in the White House, whomever he may be, and the newsmen who watch him from the wings.

At first, President Nixon merely kept newsmen at arms length. But when their questions and comments nettled him, he unleashed Spiro Agnew upon them.

The Vice President wasn't eager for the assignment. He felt, say intimates, that he was being asked to play Mr. Hyde to Nixon's Dr. Jekyll. But he dutifully assailed the networks, then lit into the newspapers that had offended Nixon. The voice was Agnew's but the words were Nixon's, arranged in literary form by the President's speech writer, Patrick Buchanan.

Quiet on the Potomac

It is also the President's view, apparently, that what newsmen don't know won't hurt him. His press aides have strived increasingly to keep the press comfortable, but keep them in the dark.

Press secretary Ronald Ziegler — a 30-year-old rehabilitated advertising account executive who is a master of Madison Avenue prattle — refuses to answer the most innocuous questions, except in general terms, without presidential assent. The answers he does volunteer are often erroneous and incomplete. He also speaks the language of the advertising trade, laced with such terms as "time frame," "in put," "output," and "program."

Twice a day, Ziegler meets with newsmen for press briefing. Any information that the President wants to put out usually is read from prepared statements and is seldom elaborated upon.

Ziegler's aides, like himself, are bright, young and inexperienced — Tim Elbourne, 31, Bruce Whelihan, 25, Alan Woods, 24. The dean of the press staff, Jerry Warren, is 39. Whereever the President goes his press aides precede him, ostensibly to make preparations. However, their real assignment, seemingly, is to protect him from any unfavorable exposure.

Before Mr. Nixon's visit to Chicago last February, for example, the press aides flew out ahead of him and prepared the press for the great occasion. At one briefing, Tim Elbourne outlined to news photographers the "do's" and "don'ts" — almost all "don'ts."

"What can we do?" growled a veteran photographer.

"Well," replied Elbourne brightly, "all of you who want to can go with Mrs. Nixon to Goose Lake Prairie. And we have planned a nice picture of Mr. and Mrs. Nixon stepping off an elevator just before the reception." Having offered the cameramen these historic events to photograph, the businesslike young Mr. Elbourne departed.

Marcos Insulted

The press aides' brusque efficiency in the Philippines almost caused President Ferdinand Marcos to call off the Nixon visit to Manila last summer. Marcos happened to overhear the advance party complaining about the inadequate facilities at the Presidential palace where the Nixons would stay.

Broke in the Filipino President angrily: "If President Nixon is coming to insult us and the Filipino people, tell him to skip Manila."

Marcos cooled off only after a hasty apology was telephoned directly from Washington.

If reporters get little news from Nixon, the reverse is also true. The President gets little news from reporters, except as it is filtered through the White House staff.

He personally receives eight newspapers, but his valet, Manola Sanchez, confided to this column that the President gives them no more than a quick scan. Usually he turns first to the sports pages.

The President also doesn't watch the TV newscasts. The only time Sanchez has seen Nixon, in front of the TV screen except on rare exceptions, is on a Saturday or Sunday afternoon to watch a sports event.

Nixon's News Summary

Mr. Nixon gets most of his news from a summary that is prepared daily under the direction of Patrick Buchanan the same man who wrote Agnew's first attack upon the press.

Following a practice that started during the Presidential campaign, Buchanan puts together newspaper articles, summaries of editorials and news broadcasts and inserts them into a blue, looseleaf notebook, with the title, "The President's Daily News Briefing," embossed in gold. Buchanan hand-carries the summary, which runs up to 25 pages, to the President each morning.

The news digest usually consists of three sections: a collection of articles culled from the wire services, summaries of columns and editorials from 54 newspapers, and detailed summaries of the prior evening's news broadcasts. These are written by Buchanan and two assistants — Tom Huston, a native of Logansport, Ind., and Mort Allin a former high school history teacher from Wisconsin. Part-time college students also assist.

The summary of the NBC broadcast is always written in great detail, as evidence to support the President's conviction that NBC is biased against the administration. In the words of a top assistant, the President is "way down" on NBC. During the campaign, Nixon's aides often discussed, in a half-joking manner, what they intended to do to NBC once their man was President.

"Make it difficult to get their licenses renewed" and "make them come to Washington to answer some questions," were two of the possibilities gleefully brought up.

The President's goal is more modest. He would be pleased if, quietly, he could break the pencil points of his chief critics.

Doves' Myopia Has Clouded Them on Hanoi Treachery

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Possibly the doves would have had a great deal more impact on the Vietnam war if they had chosen to view Hanoi through the same sharp lens they turned on us and on various Saigon governments.

But, from the outset, too many leading doves have made themselves masters of the double standard. By one means or another, including the heavy emphasis of silence, they have conveyed the impression that the Reds in Hanoi are a benign lot, doing the people's will at home and lending a friendly hand to an oppressed people in South Vietnam.

One of the doves' favorite themes is that, as practiced by the late Ho Chi Minh and his successors, communism is nothing but Vietnamese nationalism and that our entry into the fray is a blind man's intervention tending only to impede a natural surge toward nationalism.

The nationalism of the Vietnamese is real enough. But I checked again on Hanoi's role in its post-World War II upsurge. Historians agree that in 1945-46 just before Ho sent his so-called Viet Minh forces into an eight-year war with the French in Indochina, he calously wiped out every nationalist rival he could find.

Despite all that, when he assumed full power from the French in 1954, his government still was something of a "coalition." It quickly ceased to be as he eliminated the non-Reds from posts of real power.

Half a dozen historians or more will testify to the reign of terror Hanoi visitied up the North Vietnamese. Even the late Bernard Fall, hardly your standard hawk, accepted evidence that Ho put down peasant and other revolts by Vietnamese and exiling or jailing perhaps twice that number. Yet some doves still try to argue that this calculated mass murder has been over played.

Ho Chi Minh's "land reform" was so viciously phony that his regime later had to concede publicly that roughly a third of the "landlords" dispossessed had been condemned wrongly. The truth was more than two-thirds of all North Vietnamese farmers owned their land before Ho took over.

The record of the North Vietnamese legislature is something to behold. Ho held an election in 1946, and then plunged headlong into another one in 1960. In the latter, a massive 458 candidates ran for 404 seats. Actual attendance at this stunningly "Democratic" assembly has dwindled steadily toward the 20 mark.

Many key doves like to say that North and South Vietnam are "really one country," so why should anybody be mixing in their affairs for any reason whatsoever?

The fact is, for most of 30 years Vietnam was divided in either halves or thirds. For a time, centuries ago, there were Chinese-style walls separating two Vietnamese regions on a line not far above the present border at the 17th Parallel.

For hundreds of years, the Vietnamese of the Red River delta around Hanoi have been highly aggressive. They once swallowed up much of Laos and Cambodia, and it is they who colonized South Vietnam by wiping out the ancient Champa (Indian-descendant) empire.

Those who settled in the south grew to be far different from their restless northern brothers, and the enmity between north and south is deep.

The big doves love to describe our fighting in Vietnam as "genocide." They are peculiarly mute when looking at the real genocide the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong have visited upon thousands of South Vietnamese. They have wiped out a whole class (chiefs, teachers, etc.) of able, irreplaceable South Vietnamese leaders — real or potential. The Hanoi-VC flags are drenched in the blood of innocents, and young Americans who wave them are cruelly color-blind.

Full recital of Hanoi's sins would make a brutal book. Why go on? The doves proclaim noble motives, yet their double vision has always clouded them. Dwelling heavily on our errors, they have disfigured themselves beyond all credibility as witnesses. Their "humanity" is fiction.

Simmering Health Establishment—Fiery Resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Long-simmering unrest within the federal health establishment has burst to the surface with the fiery resignation of the government's chief psychiatrist and his public firing two hours later by the Nixon administration.

The forced departure Tuesday of Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, a career governmnt physician and director of the National Institute of Mental Health, capped months of barely concealed fighting among federal medical officials.

The main issues have been alleged political intervention in scientific matters, scanty budgets, and faltering leadership from President Nixon's men.

Yolles' letter of resignation and hot denunciation came less than an hour after Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, the administration's chief physician, assured newsmen he was successfully treating bureaucratic health problems.

It provided further political embarassment for embattled Health Secretary Robert H. Finch, who just spent two weeks recovering from fatigue attributed in part to the stresses of running the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Finch's leadership has been questioned by his own employes and reportedly by the White House.

Yolles, in his letter of resignation, accused the administration of "abandonment of the mentally ill" and alleged unnecessary budget cuts, and program decentralization to political hands in HEW regional offices. He further complained of research curbs, abnegation of responsibility for drug-abuse control, and "partisan political considerations" in selecting government scientific officials.

Finch condemned the "intemperate" tone of Yolles' letter and declined the psychiatrist's offer of a July 1 resignation. Instead, Yolles was fired on the spot.

Yolles had agreed Monday to resign after Finch aides told him he was no longer wanted.

"But we had to sack him on the spot after seeing that letter," said Frederic V. Malek, HEW deputy undersecretary.

Finch said Yolles' allegations were without foundation and "grossly distort the position of this administration in the mental health area."

"Dr. Yolles has consistently shown a complete unwillingness to cooperate in this department's planning for more effective mental health programs," Finch added.

Finch appointed Dr. Bertram Brown to succeed Yolles in a move aides said was designed to counter charges of a firing for partisan political purposes.

Brown, presently deputy director of NIMH, is a protege of Yolles, who headed the agency for six years. Both are Democrats.

Anti-Inflation Try

Poll: It's a Flop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three of four businessmen in a new poll say the government's anti-inflation efforts have flopped, echoing the persistent sentiment of organized labor and a group of congressional Democrats.

Of the 712 businessmen answering a poll by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce magazine Nation's Business, 540 said President Nixon's efforts were going badly or there was no improvement in inflation.

"We have the worst inflation in 20 years," AFL-CIO economist Nathan Goldfinger said Tuesday. "I would not rule out a depression, but the current situation certainly is one of economic recession, and the economic recession is getting worse."

In other developments Tuesday the stock market's four-day rally stalled after a gain of nearly 80 points, and House Democrats introduced a bill to give the President power to impose the wage-price controls he opposes.

The Nation's Business survey will be published in the magazine's July edition. Every three months the magazine polls one or two alternating groups of 1,500 businessmen. About half respond each time.

This time 712 responded, with 540 seeing no improvement or worse and 172 seeing at least slight improvement. Six months ago, when the same 1,500 were polled, 762 responded. Of them only 344 saw no improvement or were dissatisfied, and 417 saw at least some improvement.

Labor's Goldfinger, after noting the sharpest rise in living costs in two decades, went on to say, "We have the sharpest increase in unemployment in 10 years. We have sky-high interest rates—higher than at any time in the past 100 years or more."

He spoke on the AFL-CIO-sponsored Labor News Conference program on the Mutual Broadcasting System.

He repeated the AFL-CIO's offer to support controls if Nixon finds them necessary and if they apply equally to prices, profits, dividends, rents and corporate salaries as well as wages.

Meanwhile 12 Democrats—all members of the House Banking Committee—introduced a bill that would give Nixon standby powers to impose such controls. Hearings were set for June 16.

The Banking Committee's senior Republican, Rep. William B. Widnall of New Jersey, already has called the bill a political ploy. The administration has opposed controls as unworkable.

Goldfinger urged Nixon to use the less drastic selective credit controls Congress authorized four months ago. He said they would pump more money into such slumping areas as construction and would restrict money for big-business speculation.

On the New York Stock Exchange Tuesday the Dow-Jones average of 30 industrials closed down three-quarters of a point after a four-day upsurge that had seen a gain of nearly 20 points.

4 Mafia Figures Among Six Nabbed

BATAVIA, N.Y. (UPI) —Four known Mafia figures were among six men arrested by state police Tuesday and charged with loitering at a restaurant in this western New York community.

Among those arrested was Frank Valenti, identified by the State Investigation Commission in 1966 as head of bookmaking activities in the Rochester area under Stefano Magaddino.

The six men pleaded innocent at arraignment in Batavia city court and were released on $50 bail. Their cases were adjourned until next Monday.

Police investigators made no comment on the purpose of the meeting.

The arrests came one week after medical testimony at a federal court hearing i Buffalo indicated that western New York Mafia leader Magaddino has only months, possibly weeks to live. It also came shortly after J. Edgar Hoover revealed in an FBI report that Magaddino was unable to carry out his leadership role because of illness.

Valenti was one of the underworld figures who attended the infamous gathering in Apalachin in November 1957, according to U.S. Senate crime hearings testimony and the SIC report.

Detectives from the trooper's Bureau of Criminal Investigation said the men were charged with loitering because, as the law reads, they "failed to give reasonable account for their conduct and purposes."

The other known crime figures arrested were Rene Picarretto, Valenti's driver, who lives in the Rochester suburb of Henrietta, Joseph Fino and Roy Carlisi of Buffalo.

The other two arrested at the meeting at Mancuso's Restaurant were Fred Sabastian, a Niagara Falls contractor, and Albert Marks, from the Rochester area.

State and local police arrested the men at Mancuso's Restaurant shortly before noon after BCI investigator Henry F. Williams received information of the meeting.

Valenti, Fino, and Carlisi were all mentioned in testimony from the 1963 U.S. Senate hearings on organized crime.

That testimony identifies Carlisi as a wholesaler of clams:

"It is said that at the height of the Carlisi power, dispensers of clams found it wise to conduct their clam business exclusively with the Carlisi enterprise..."

"Carlisi was first arrested Dec. 30, 1937, in Chicago on a charge of violation of the Internal Revenue Act (to wit, the operation of a still,) which charge was later dismissed," the testimony continued.

Carlisi attended the Apalachin meeting in 1957.

Fino's police record stretches back to 1931 and includes 20 arrests. Federal testimony in 1963 identifies him as part of the muscle in the Buffalo Mafia operation.

He is now believed to be an under-boss in the Magaddino organization.

The 1963 SIC report reads, "Frank Valenti is known to all law enforcement agencies in the state as well as to federal authorities. He has long been identified by them as connected with a particular segment of a notorious crime syndicate which operates in the general area of western New York."

Valenti was convicted in 1961 of an election law, and ordered to leave the state for three years.

The SIC report said when he returned to Rochester, "it was his intention to re-establish himself as leader of a syndicate operating in the Rochester area.

"As a first step he sought and obtained approval of syndicate leader 'Don' Stephano Magaddino, of Niagara Falls. The principle phase of his operation was to be an organization of bookmakers in Rochester who were to pay a per cent of their profits to the syndicate in return for 'protection,' which Valenti offered to provide."

Federal court testimony in Buffalo last week at a hearing to determine if Magaddino were strong enough to stand trial, states that because of a bad heart, he might have only a short time to live.

Magaddino, who is 78, faces charges with several other men of interstate racketeering.

Troopers said when arrested, Marks was driving a car with Connecticut registration, but his address was given as 69 Eastland Ave., in a fashionable section of the Rochester suburb of Brighton.

Big City Mayors Plan Home Rule Fight

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay says the big six mayors are preparing to "wage state-wide battle" this fall to gain increased home rule for New York State's municipalities.

The mayors of the state's six largest cities, Lindsay said Tuesday, will spend "the balance of the summer laying out a joint statement based on careful research for a home-rule platform in the fall."

"Each city has a chamber of horrors of things that can be remedied by simple legislation," the mayor said, following a luncheon speech to the 61st annual convention of the New York State Conference of Mayors and other municipal executives.

Lindsay pointed out that Albany dictates pension requirements, working hours of municipal employes and fringe benefits and, he said, these are "mandated on local governments at huge costs."

Act on Gasoline Leak Under Stone Ridge Bank

STONE RIDGE — Steps are being taken to alleviate the cause of the gas fumes that have been permeating the Stone Ridge Branch of the Kingston Trust Company in recent weeks.

It has been reported that the odor of gasoline may be coming from an abandoned well underneath the bank into which gasoline is filtering from an underground gasoline tank nearby.

Gregory Brothers, contractors of Lake Katrine has reportedly been pumping out about 100 gallons every other day from the tank in hopes of alleviating the problem.

The Ulster County Department of Health, called in by the bank, advised that the bank building be vented.

Harry Edinger, director of environmental sanitation, said that it is not at all unusual for gasoline tanks to spring leaks and contaminate water underground.

He recalled that in late 1969, 12 to 14 families in West Hurley were exposed to extensive gasoline contamination and that the Gulf Oil and Refining Company went to considerable effort and expense to dig a well and get as much of the tainted water out of the ground as possible. The company even moved one family from the area. Gulf also put nine carbon filters in to absorb moderate amounts of gasoline. Edinger pointed out that gasoline can be smelled and tasted in low concentrations. A similar occurrance took place in West Hurley within the last 10 years and extensive contamination was experienced in the Canoe Hill Section of Saugerties that reached out over miles. Still another episode took place at the intersection of the Bypass and Rt. 9W in the Town of Ulster.

Interest in alleviating the situation in Stone Ridge is keen due to the fact that there is open limestone in the area which invites contamination.

Truck Strike Costs Near Billion Mark

CHICAGO (AP) — Business losses in a Chicago trucking strike almost two months old may be nearing the $1-billion mark and laid-off workers are losing millions a day in wages.

But household necessities such as milk, eggs and bread are still available. Says Ted Anastos, an attorney for the trucking industry:

"If food wouldn't be delivered because of a truck strike we'd have the women burning the town down."

About 15,000 trucks belonging to smaller firms continue to deliver the daily essentials of life.

But 35,000 huge tractor-trailer rigs and other trucks belonging to the city's leading carriers were idle.

So far, the wholesalers, businesses with marginal inventories and small manufacturers have taken the brunt of the economic loss, which the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry estimates at $900 million since April 9.

The combined strike and lockout involving Teamsters Union Locals 705 and 710 and the independent Chicago Truck Drivers Union began April 9 when the drivers pushed for a $1.65 an hour wage increase over their present $4.10 an hour.

A spokesman for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry said the stoppage may harm Chicago's reputation as a center for truck traffic and as a national supplier of commodities.

"When this is over we're going to have a selling job on our hands," he said. "If the strike continues much longer some businesses will set up new paths of supply and transportation which will circumvent Chicago."

President Nixon ordered Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz to enter the dispute last Thursday in an effort to bring the unions and industry to the bargaining table.

Shultz dispatched his chief mediator to the city and said the dispute "is a matter of serious concern to the administration."

The Association of Commerce and Industry says there have been 170,000 layoffs in a wide range of businesses and industries, a $7 million a day payroll loss and more than 65,500 persons who have claimed unemployment benefits because of the dispute.

A Teamsters spokesman claimed that many of the economic loss figures were inflated, although he acknowledged that the dispute was costing Chicago a great deal of money.

"These announcements of economic losses are just more pressure tactics," the spokesman said.

"Of course, people are getting hurt. In every labor dispute some people get hurt, but the drivers are suffering too. Still, they're determined to get an acceptable contract."

Many of the drivers, who get only a nominal strike benefit check each week, have begun working as taxi drivers and drivers for firms which have signed with the unions.

Industry sources said others had hired out independently to merchants.

Candidate Event Tonight For Red Hook School

RED HOOK — Two candidates for a Board of Education seat here will square off at a P-TA sponsored Candidates Night tonight, to answer questions and meet the people of the district.

Dr. George F. Michael, the incumbent, has been a board member in the Red Hook Central District for 10 years. He served as president of the Board for seven years and is a dentist with offices in Red Hook.

Wiylliam Crane, the challenger, is in the Systems Development Division of IBM in Kingston. He has resided in Red Hook for 10 years, after attendance at Pine Plains High School and Bard College. He has asked for explanation as to why the currently proposed school budget has increased by more than $430,000 from last year.

The Meet Your Candidates Night is becoming something of a tradition in Red Hook, but cannot match the complicated race held last year in the district. Eight candidates tried for one board seat in 1969.

Those who have not yet registered to vote June 10 must do so by 9 p.m. today at the high school. The annual board meeting will be held June 9, when the proposed budget will be explained in detail.

June the Bride Month— Also Time for Splitsville

KINGSTON — June — traditional month for brides?

One look at the Supreme Court calendar in Ulster County this month casts considerable doubt that June 1970 will herald only marital bliss.

Breaking some kind of a record, the 60 "matrimony actions" plus seeking divorce or separation scheduled to be heard, are just about double the usual 30 which is considered average for any Supreme Court term in Kingston, according to Deputy Court Clerk William Krum.

Supreme Court opened at 11 a.m. Monday with trial jurors reporting. Justice Louis Bruhn will preside at Part I and Justice T. Waldron Hertzberg for Part 2.

In County Court, Ulster County Judge Raymond J. Mino is presiding as is Judge Francis J. Williams.

Grand jurors, selected Monday, fell short of the number needed although 35 names were drawn. Twenty additional names will be called by Commissioner John L. Smith for appearance June 10.

Idaho Man Held On Bail to Face Narcotic Charge

TOWN OF ULSTER — A 21-year-old Idaho man was arrested at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday by Kingston State Police on a charge of criminal possession of dangerous drugs sixth degree.

Paul Savignac of Idaho Falls, was taken into custody by troopers after he was stopped on Route 28 in this township for a routine check. Authorities said the defendant had hallucinogenic drugs in his possession.

Arraigned before Town Justice Sherwood E. Davis, Savignac was released on $100 bail pending a hearing on June 16 at 7 p.m.

Official Band Display

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A bluebird exhibit, complete with the cheery song of the state's official bird, is on display at the New York State Museum in Albany.

The display includes a winter scene with a mounted bluebird perched on a branch, and a cutaway model of a bluebird box showing a nest and eggs.

The bluebird is fairly common in the western part of the state.

Camp Drum—A Hum

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — More than 100,000 citizen soldiers from 13 northeastern states will perform their summer month active duty training at Camp Drum, about 15 miles northeast of here.

The installation is the major National Guard training center for the First Army area.

Strengthen Dams

VIENNA (UPI)—Tens of thousands of rescue workers, soldiers, students and amnestied prisoners strengthened dams today against the flood waters of the Danube, three times its normal size.

The height of the flood is expected to come within 10 days when the crest reaches the Danube Delta.

Petition Action In Gardiner on Assessment Roll

GARDINER — Numerous complaints about assessments were registered at the Gardiner Town Board meeting Tuesday night. It is reported that a petition was drawn up asking for grand jury action on the matter.

According to an official it is mentioned in the petition that some taxpayers feel their assessments are prejudiced because they are new residents, because they speak out at Town Board meetings, because they speak out for or against certain town officials, and because of party affiliation. It is also reported that grievance day will be held June 16.

Zena Fire Co. Slates Bazaar July 10-11

WOODSTOCK — Zena Fire Company No. 4, Woodstock, will hold its annual bazaar on the evening of July 10 and 11.

Plans for this year's bazaar are designed to provide fun and entertainment for all age groups, with additional emphasis on games for the young.

Funds received from the bazaar are returned to the community in the form of increased fire protection and improved equipment and fire house facilities. Examples of the past year's improvements are: a systematic expansion of the "Home Alert" system for quicker response to fires, and the pavement of the fire house grounds for essential accessibility and parking facilties. Also, in order to meet the growing demands of the community, funds have been allocated and plans are in progress for a substantial increase in the size of the fire house.

Bob Kalcinski and Glen Diehm are co-chairman of this year's bazaar.

Arrest Couple, Charge of Disturbance

KINGSTON — Accused of causing a disturbance at their home Tuesday night, William Jansen, 33, and his wife, Charlotte, 29, of 210 O'Neil Street, were arrested by police on charges of disorderly conduct.

Jansen was released in $25 bail and Mrs. Jansen was paroled in her own custody pending appearance in City Court.

Two Female Firsts

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Allalee A. Babbidge, the first woman vice president of the Marine Midland Trust Co., has chalked up another first.

She's the first woman ever to be elected a director of the Better Business Bureau of Western New York.

Overlook Center Nursery School Teacher Named

WOODSTOCK — Mrs. Roy Irving has been appointed teacher for the nursery school of the Overlook Preschool Center which will start classes in September at the Overlook United Methodist Church, Bearsville Road, Woodstock.

Mrs. David Stott will serve as program coordinator and the Board of Directors named by the Administrative Board will include Dr. Henry Meddendorf, Michael Boyle, Mrs. Henry Berleth, Ernest Jones, and David Stott. Two parent representatives will be added at a later date.

Mrs. Irving who lives with her husband and three children at 5 Marko Grove in Woodstock is a graduate of Bucknell University with a B.S. in elementary education. She taught in South Jersey before coming to Woodstock.

The Nursery School will have sessions for three and four-year-olds with classes from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. Enrollments are still open and interested parents may contact Mrs. David Stott of Woodstock, or Mrs. Irving.

Woodstock GOP 'Elephant' Event Saturday

WOODSTOCK — Plans are in the final stages for a buffet dinner-dance to be called "Evening of the Elephant" at Deanie's Restaurant, Woodstock on Saturday.

The dance featuring music by Bob Steuding's Combo, will be sponsored by Woodstock Republican Club. The event is being co-chaired by Mrs. Monroe Longendyke and Norman Fowler

Dinner will begin at 8 p.m., with the band playing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. H. Clark Bell or Mrs. Longendyke.

Justices at Meeting

Four local town justices were among 205 trainees in attendance at the eighth annual Spring Justice Training Program sponsored by the Judicial Conference of the State of New York and held at Albany Law School.

They were Richard W. Alberstadt, Kingston; DeWitt Schermerhorn Gurnell, Rhinebeck; Charles D. Montafia, Esopus and Wayne G. Smith, Plattekill.

Classes were held on Fridays and Saturdays for three weekends in April and covered such topics as criminal and civil procedure, treatment of youthful offenders, elements of common crimes, the rules of evidence, vehicle and traffic law violations and the procedure for their disposition.

10 Students Demoted For Peace Chant

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — At least 10 students from an Albany military-type, private high school were demoted in rank for chanting "peace now" during part of last Saturday's Memorial Day parade.

"We were there to march, not to make a speech," Albany Academy Headmaster Harry Meislahn said Tuesday. "If the chant had been 'hooray for Nixon,' we would have taken the same action."

Meislahn said most of those demoted were graduating seniors who are "highly regarded," but must be disciplined. The headmaster said the chanting was spontaneous.

Those busted to lower ranks included three captains, three lieutenants, three sergeants and a corporal, Meislahn said. Also, an apology was given to Mayor Erastus Corning.

Red Hook Sgt. V. T. Yoli Jr. At Air Force Tactical Meet

Master Sergeant Victor T. Yoli Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor I. Yoli of R¹ 9G, Red Hook, attended the recent conference at Maxwell AFB, Ala., for U. S. Air Force tactical communications reserve forces.

Sergeant Yoli was among Air Force active duty technical advisers who assisted with the second annual joint Air Force Communications Service and Tactical Air Command orientation program for Air Force Reserve and Air National Guard members having mobilization assignments in tactical communications.

The three-day conference brought together reservists and guardsmen from 32 states for briefings on such subjects as the latest developments in digital communications. Particigital communications. Participants also were provided an opportunity for discussing such matters as future field training exercise and manning of mobile units.

Sergeant Yoli is assigned as a technical adviser with 232nd Mobile Communications Squadron at Dannelly Air National Guard Base, Montgomery, Ala.

The Sergeant, a 1949 graduate of St. Francis Xavier High School, New York, attended St. Peters College, Jersey City, N. J.

His wife is the former Marilyn F. Crocker.

War Service Grants Offered to Viet Vets

KINGSTON — Six hundred war-service scholarships will again be awarded this year to Vietnam era veterans in New York State, according to Charles L. Culver, State Veteran Counselor and John B. Tyler, Veterans' Service Agency Director, County Office Building, Kingston.

Eligible veterans, the veterans officials said, have until June 24 in which to file their applications for the competitive examination to be held Friday, July 10.

Recently approved by Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller, the scholarships provide annual awards up to $350 for successful candidates. The scholorships may be used for four years of full-time study at an approved college, business, professional, vocational, trade, or technical school located within New York State. Part-time study is prorated over a five year period.

A veteran must have been a resident of New York State at the time he entered the Armed Forces, Tyler and Culver said, and must be a resident at the time of application. They also noted that the veteran must have served on active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States between October 1, 1961 and July 1, 1970, and discharged or released under honorable conditions.

The veterans officials also explained that benefits under the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act or the Veterans' Readjustment Act of 1966 (the GI Bill), will not preclude a veteran from receiving a War Service Scholarship should he be successful in the examination.

Applications and counseling on war-service scholarships may be obtained at the local office of the New York State Division of Veterans' Affairs and Veterans' Service Agency at the County Office Building, Kingston.

Area Men Serve With Aerospace

Captain John C. Millard, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Millard of Rt. 19, Locust Street, Kingston, is a member of the Aerospace Defense Command's (ADC) 25th Air Division that has won the General Frederic H. Smith Jr. Trophy.

The 25th, chosen for having the best air defense ground unit in ADC, is headquartered at McChord AFB, Wash., and helps safeguard the aerial approaches to North America.

The annual rotating trophy is named in honor of the former and now retired ADC vice commander who became Air Force vice chief of staff.

Captain Millard is a weapons director at McChord.

The captain, a 1958 graduate of Kingston High School, received his B.S. degree in psychology in 1962 from Manhattan College, Riverdale, N. Y. He was commissioned upon completion of Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex.

West Shokan

The tabulation of the 1970 Olive census is reportedly nearing completion. The crew leader is the Rev. Otis McDonald, who pastors the Shady and Lakehill Wesleyan parishes. The five tabulators are Mrs. Marge Trowbridge, Mrs. Bea Snyder, Mrs. Dorothy Adsit, Mrs. Metz and Mike Warren. The 1960 census of Olive, with a population of 1999 was tabulated by Elwyn C. Davis, as well as the 1930 census and the farm count in Olive and Denning in 1954 and Olive in 1959.

The Senior Citizens group was the guest of the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Olive Women's Club at the library building. An educational film on Russia was shown. A group of Senior Citizens attended the showing of "Good Bye Mr. Chips" at the Community Theatre in Kingston.

The new Olivebridge minister is the Rev. Harold Johnson. He replaced the Rev. William R. Deckham who resides in Zena.

Reggie and Elsie Davis of Sawmill Road, Olivebridge, recently arrived home after a vacation in Zephyr Hills, Fla.

Mrs. Helen Marshall of Olivebridge celebrated her birthday in April.

George and Selma Rightmeir and the Donald Bishops also recently returned from Florida.

Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Ulster County Legislators, spoke recently at the Town of Olive Republican Club meeting held at the Ashokan Memorial Hall. He spoke on County Growth.

Sheriff William B. Martin had a recent fireplace chimney fire at his home in Shokan. Shokan Fire Department responded quickly to the call and there was no noticeable damage reported.

Ollie Burcher recently celebrated her 60th birthday with dinner in Olivebridge.

Mahan Kizirian of New York City recently spent a few days at his West Shokan Heights home.

High Falls

Coming events of the Reformed Church include Children's Day on June 14 and a rummage sale on Saturday, July 18.

At the worship hour Sunday, seven young people united with the High Falls Reformed Church. Infant baptism also took place.

Band practice, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Boice, will be held Thursday evenings at 6::30. The band will play at the Children's Day exercises.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pratt spent the weekend in Walton with their son and family, the Donald Pratts.

More than 40 relatives and friends called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kolodzieski Jr. for a house warming. Guests came from as far away as Syracuse and Mississippi. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Shirley Countryman of Cottekill and Mrs. Margaret Andersen of High Falls.

Dr. and Mrs. Lester Sanford of Port Ewen visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jansen.

Miss Anna Draudt is at the senior citizen residence of the Benedictine Hospital.

Friends of Mrs. Lucy Yeaple were pleased to see that she has recovered sufficiently to attend church on Sunday.

Seven young people were received into the membership of the High Falls Reformed Church on Confession of Faith at a recent Sunday service. They were David Alan Brought, Debra Lynn Finch, Ronald Allen Hunlock, Lauri Ann Jansen, Rosemarie McCardle, Kathy Lynn Schaefer and Nancy Ann Staats.

Brief Medical Examination For the Soviet Cosmonauts

MOSCOW (UPI)—The two cosmonauts aboard Soyuz 9 underwent a brief medical check today on the second day of what is expected to be a lengthy mission to test the effects of prolonged space travel of man.

Soviet scientists have announced plans to build an orbital space platform and medical sources in Moscow said they were concerned about the effects of protracted weightlessness and artificial atmosphere on human beings.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the crewmen made a course correction on their 17th orbit, relayed the medical data to earth and then retired for a rest.

Tass said after 22 orbits that both men "feel well and retain fully their capacity for work."

Soyuz 9, commanded by veteran cosmonaut Col. Andrian Nikolayev with Vitaly Sevastianov as flight engineer, was launched Monday night while U.S. astronaut Neil A. Armstrong was being entertained at the cosmonauts' "Star City" compouned on the edge of Moscow.

The cosmonauts received a message Tuesday from Armstrong offering "best wishes on fulfilling your assignment and best of luck on your return." They radioed their thanks.

Armstrong, the first man on the moon, presented Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin with samples of lunar soil Tuesday and Kosygin told him "the Soviet peoples are second to none in admiring your courage and knowledge."

Predictions by some Western space experts that a second Soyuz1 would be launched Tuesday night to rendezvous or dock with Soyuz 9 were not fulfilled.

The Soviets have hinted in various published articles at the possibility of using the cosmonauts' physiological changes for automatic control of the atmosphere mixture, artificial gravity and other conditions in spacecraft.

Tass said the crew carried out various surveys of geological and geographical features of earth Tuesday and shifted their initial orbit to a more elliptical one ranging from 132 to 165 miles above the earth.

Believe Human Error Caused Apollo 13 Mishap

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI)—Mounting evidence indicates human error resulted in undetected damage to an Apollo 13 oxygen tank more than two weeks before launch, causing it to explode near the moon.

Edgar M. Cortright, chairman of the review board studying the explosion, said Tuesday it appears technicians applied too much voltage to a pair of heater thermostat switches in the tank—ruining them—in trying to overcome problems draining the tanks after a practice countdown at Cape Kennedy.

He said technicians thought the switches could stand 65 volts of direct current, when actually they were designed for a maximum of 30 volts.

"I think it's clear a mistake was made," Cortright said.

Failure of the switches caused immediate damage to insulation on wires in the oxygen tank, Cortright said. The damaged wires finally sparked, he said, touching off a fire that either caused the tank to burst or—more likely—burned a two-inch hole in its top.

He refused to say pending further investigation why technicians mistakenly believed the switches could withstand the higher voltage. He also refused comment on why the damage went undiscovered, or whether there were extra tests for damage after the unusually severe draining operation.

Laboratory Gene May Help Science

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Scientists have created a gene in the laboratory, a feat that raises questions about the possibility of starting life itself in a test tube.

The announcement of the first man-made gene—the basic unit of heredity that controls all life processes—was made Tuesday by a team headed by a Nobel Prize winner, Dr. H. Gobind Khorana.

The University of Wisconsin team said genes can be made completely from simple organic chemicals.

Khorana, who won a 1968 Nobel for earlier work on the genetic code, said the new work might eventually allow scientists to manipulate the biology of a living system.

Some scientists have said in the past that it might be 25 to 100 years before this new knowledge of genetics can be put to work in man.

The first likely application would be in genetic engineering —perhaps infecting humans with viruses that carry new genes, genes that would cure hereditary diseases such as hemophilia.

By making and giving substitute genes, man may be able to make people smarter or taller. Scientists may be able to turn off the growth of cancer cells.

A first simple life form that might be made in the test tube is a virus.

Even this, however, could be dangerous. A man-made virus might be so unusual that nothing would exist to control it.

So while scientists are moving closer to control of biological processes, they also are moving closer to dangers and the problems of the possible misuse of this mastery.

Who would be given the power to make decisions about heredity control? This question is one of profound concern to many scientists working with genetics.

When a Harvard Medical School team isolated pure genetic material late last year, Dr. Jonathan Beckwith, 33, the team leader, expressed fear that the work could be misused by government.

The Wisconsin synthesis of a gene is a major advance in a biological revolution that began in the 1940s with the discovery that growth and heredity are controlled by the chemical substance DNA, deoxyribonucleic acid.

Genes are molecules of DNA. They thus harbor the master genetic information that is responsible for making people, and all living things, what they are.

100-lb. Tumor Is Removed From Woman, 58

ATLANTA (UPI—Surgeons at Piedmont Hospital disclosed they have removed a 100-pound tumor from a 58-year-old woman.

The operation sent doctors searching through medical books to see if it was the largest ever removed.

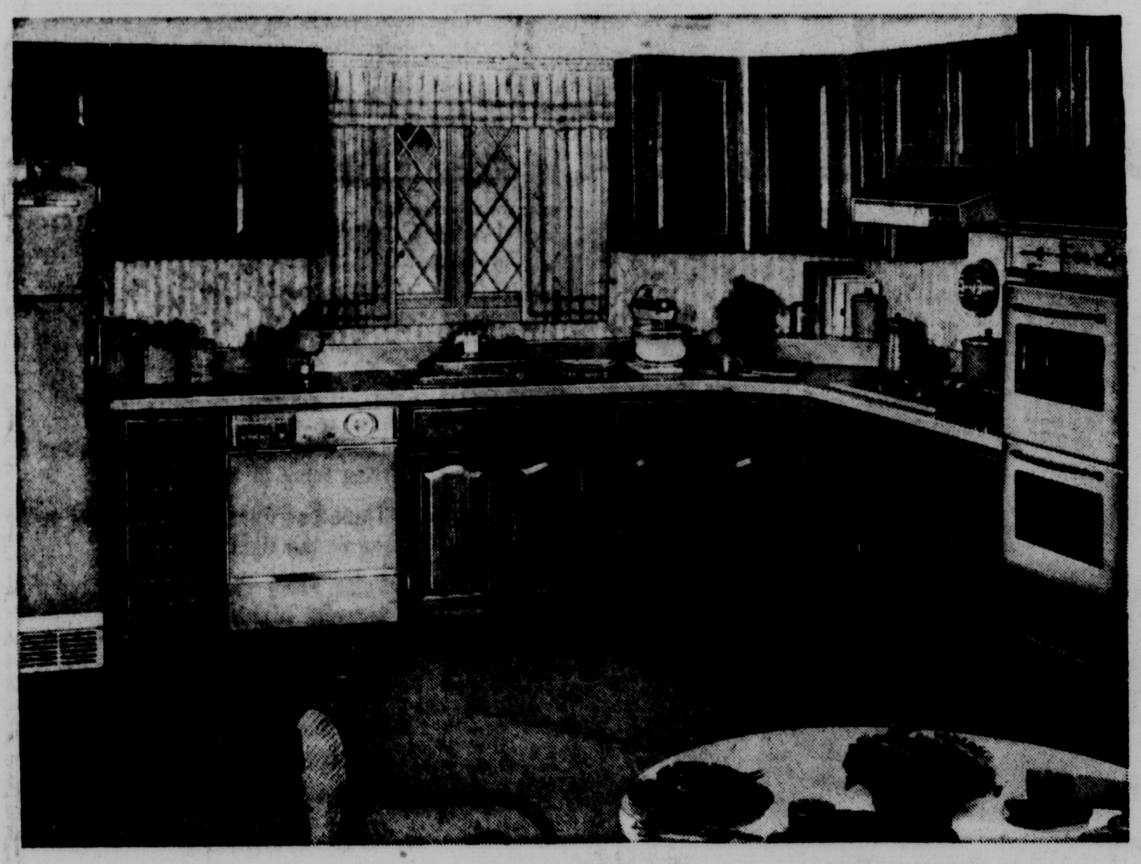

Dr. John Akin, who headed up the surgical team, said any tumor weighing more than 15 pounds generally was considered extraordinary.

"I don't blame you if you don't believe it," he said. "It's unbelievable."

The tumor, described as a nonmalignant fibroid mass located in the woman's uterus, had been first noticed by the patient about 20 years ago. She did not seek medical advice.

Akin said the woman weighed 230 pounds before the operation and apparently felt little discomfort. She had been working in her garden as recently as two weeks ago, according to Akin.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY FREEMAN

BICYCLE RODEO WINNER — Maureen Landcastle of Saugerties, Second Grade, Main Street School, was named the winner of a new bicycle donated by Montgomery Ward Co., Kingston in Saugerties Jaycees' recent bicycle safety rodeo. A lecture on bicycle safety was held in cooperation of Saugerties Central Schools as part of the program. Rules of the contest included passing a bicycle safety check and rules of the road and riding skills were judged. Other winners were Margo Woywod, Second Grade, Glasco School; Patricia Mullery, Fourth Grade, St. Mary's School; Kim Jackson, Third Grade, Mt. Marion School; and a tie for Grant D. Morse School, Gary Myer, second grade and Greg Walbroehl, Fourth Grade. At the presentation are (L-R) Jaycees Graham Whittenberg and Milan Paddock and W. R. Joyce, merchandise manager of Montgomery Ward. (Bob Ricketson photo).

Outstanding Teeners Are Honored

SAUGERTIES

Outstanding teenagers named by the Saugerties Jaycees received awards recently at an assembly at the high school. The teenagers were selected by judges from the Jaycees and the League of Women Voters.

The winners included Mark Ishkanian who is active in sports and student government, and intends to become an oceanographer.

David Snyder is on the school newspaper staff, member of the National Honor Society, co-editor of the yearbook and National Merit Scholarship Commendation winner.

Daniel Lamb is an outstanding student, worked on the yearbook and is in the senior play.

Jan Baudendistel is active in her church group and in school activities which include playing the cello.

Thomas Keefe is active in athletics, chairman of the student government, winner of a Regent scholarship. He is working to help establish a youth center in Saugerties and helped get approval for a $3,000 grant for the town from the Office of Economic Opportunity.

In questioning the contestants the judges found most of the teenagers in favor of lowering the voting age. The teenagers were also in favor of a direct vote and against the present electoral college system.

Of the last three presidents John F. Kennedy was admired most by the teenagers. Martin Luther King was the most admired person of the current decade.

Concerning drugs, the teenagers were against legalization. They also felt that there should be more scientific investigation of the drug problem. The teenagers were in favor of a voluntary drug center.

The current protests, it was felt are good if peaceful.

The consensus was against the draft by the boys and for it by the girls. Most of the boys were willing to serve if called, and many said they would enlist if there were a declaration of war. The teenagers were concerned with the environment. Some had actively participated in cleaning it up. They felt that officials who would do something about the environment should be elected, and that improvement should start on the local level.

The teenagers like Saugerties as a place to live.

Jaycees Finish the Year Tied for 14th in State

SAUGERTIES

At the May membership meeting of Saugerties Jaycees, it was announced by the outgoing president, Robert L. Martin, that the local Jaycee chapter finished the 1969-70 Jaycee year tied for fourteenth place out of 220 Jaycee locals in the New York State Jaycees.

The membership accepted final reports from 19 committee chairmen, concluding a year which saw the Jaycees run some 60 external projects and some 15 internal projects.

The Jaycees held its annual elections to select 10 young men to serve on the Board of Directors for 1970-71.

Traditionally, the Jaycee elections in Saugerties have been colorful and hotly contested, and this year was no exception. Over sixty members, including associate members, were present to campaign and vote for their favorites. Each candidate explained why he wanted the job and how he felt the Saugerties Jaycees might better serve the community.

Elected to lead the Saugerties Jaycees toward greater involvement in the community's needs for recreation, environmental improvement, youth activities, safety, entertainment, underprivileged assistance, and other civic betterment programs were: John Lawrence, president; Anthony Mennella, internal vice president; Steven Chase, external vice president; Ned Steere, treasurer; Robert Ricketson, secretary; Raymond Peterson, state director and Egon Lipert, William Brogan, John Pawlows, Ronald Willing, local directors.

Richard Aguanno and Gerald Bone were the recipients of a dual award for Jaycee of the month. A Presidential Citation was presented to Clifford Harris for his reports on the Saugerties School Board meetings.

Fourth of July General Chairman Lippert, announced that plans for the parade and field day are well under way.

Chairman Gary Bernard, reported that the Junior Champ event is to be held at the Saugerties High School on June 13.

June 28 is the scheduled workday for the Jaycees at the summer Girl Scout Camp, Camp Wendy.

The next Jaycee membership meeting will be held on June 15 at the Flamingo Restaurant.

Rebekahs Plan Memorial Rites, Observance of 64th Anniversary

SAUGERTIES

Arrangements for memorial services and the observance of the 64th anniversary were the topics of the recent meeting of Queen Ulster Rebekah Lodge No. 34 with Noble Grand Alice Legg presiding.

The annual memorial service for deceased members will be held Sunday at the Congregational Church at 11 a.m.

Members of William H. Raymond Lodge No. 59, Catskill Mountain Lodge No. 487 and Queen of the Catskills Rebekah Lodge No. 36 are invited to join with Queen Ulster in honoring those who have passed on and are requested to give the names of those deceased since the last memorial service, to the Rev. Frederick Imhoff.

Queen Ulster will observe its 64th anniversary on June 16 and all officers are requested to wear white.

At the Rebekah Assembly Session held at the Statler Hilton Hotel May 18-21 Anna E. Minkler of Queen Ulster No. 34 was elected secretary of the State Secretaries' Association and Ethel Johle of Queen of the Catskills was appointed assembly right herald. The committees for the next meeting are Visiting: Leola Whitaker, Aretta Meyers, Vice Grand and Noble Grand; Refreshments: Louise Boice and Ruby Miller.

Summer Meets Are Planned By Task Force

SAUGERTIES

Community Task Force for Equal Educational Opportunity meeting at the Saugerties High School recently, decided to continue sessions over the summer months.

However, rather than the whole group meeting as it has been doing, it was decided to form and to work from small sub-groups each considering an area of common interest.

At intervals, the whole group will come together to hear progress reports.

Prior to the June 22 meeting, members have been asked to indicate their area of interest. The number of sub-groups formed will be determined by the diversity of interests.

Rhinebeck Choir Fares Well

RHINEBECK

The Rhinebeck Elementary Choir, conducted by Walter L. Swertfeger, and the High School Choir and Symphonic Band, conducted by Rollo A. West, all fared well in recent competition in Poughkeepsie.

All three groups selected to enter for the plus rating, which meant they had to prepare six selections instead of the usual four for the state competition.

The Elementary Choir was awarded "A plus," grade III. It was accompanied by Mrs. Austin Cox.

The High School Choir was awarded "A plus," grade III, and was accompanied by Eugene Watson and assisted by Carol Foss.

The High School Symphonic Band was awarded "A plus," grade III.

BCI, Torraca's Staff Push Probe of Fatal Shooting

KINGSTON — State Police BCI officers from Ellenville assisted by the staff of District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca today continued investigation of the fatal shooting that occurred early Monday on Route 209 near Kyserike Road, Accord.

Meanwhile, a spokesman at Kingston Hospital reported the condition of 29-year-old Rodney Arnold, of Queens Highway, Kerhonkson, who authorities said shot himself in the head with a 9mm automatic revolver, remained in critical condition.

Arnold, according to State Police investigators, allegedly fatally shot 31-year-old Elizabeth C. Blaustein, mother of three, of Wallkill and Alligerville. The woman had been shot twice, troopers said.

Thomas Mayone, chief investigator from the district attorney's office, said Assistant District Attorney Joseph J. Traficanti Jr., has been assigned to work with BCI officers, who are reportedly taking statements from witnesses and endeavoring to tie loose ends together seeking a motive and definite details of the Monday incident.

Arnold, who was a guard at Catskill Reformatory at Napanoch has not been questioned because of his condition, authorities said.

Several Accord residents, who were at the scene of the fatal shooting Monday, and an unidentified truck driver, who found the gravely wounded woman in her station wagon some distance from where the shootings took place, are being interviewed by investigators.

Public Offering Listed Of $25-Million C-H Bonds

NEW YORK — Kidder, Peabody and Co. Incorporated and White, Weld and Co., as joint managers of the underwriting group, today announced the public offering of $25-million Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation first mortgage bonds, 9¾ per cent series due 2000, at 100.50 per cent and accrued interest, to yield 9.325 per cent.

Net proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be applied to the repayment of short-term obligations. These obligations were incurred for the refunding of the company's first mortgage bonds, 3 per cent series due April 1, 1970, and for the company's construction program. The 1970-1974 construction program is estimated at $144.7-million.

The bonds will not be redeemable prior to June 1, 1975, at an interest cost to the company of less than 9.41 per cent. Otherwise they are redeemable at 109.88 per cent in the 12 months beginning June 1, 1970, declining annually thereafter to par in the 12 months beginning June 1, 1999, in all cases plus accrued interest.

Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation provides electric service in a New York State area comprising about 2,600 square miles and having an estimated population of 494,000, and gas service in four cities plus certain outlying and intervening territory.

State Checks The Boilers At Hillcrest

KINGSTON — State inspection of the recent renovation of two boilers in Hillcrest Gardens, 74-unit apartment complex on Fairmont Avenue, has begun according to the Albany Insuring Office of the Federal Housing Administration.

The administration scheduled the inspection after having received word from the apartment owner, Harold Bruskin Associates of New Brunswick, N. J. stating that the work had been completed and additional maintenance work is being conducted.

The Schenectady Savings Bank, which holds a mortgage on the property had threatened foreclosure unless satisfactory repairs were made to the boiler system by June 1.

Complaints from tenants during the winter have been fairly routine for the past two years.

3 Young Women Arrested for A Nude Swim

MARBLETOWN — Three young women were arrested Tueday and charged with "lewdness" after having been found swimming in the nude at the Spillway in Marbletown, the Sheriff's Department reported.

Arraigned before Town Justice Robert Diamond were Carle P. Pellito 22, of Modena; Carol Anderson 19, of Modena and Nancy Herrington, 23, of Dean Bridge Road, New York City.

Sentenced to five days in jail or a fine of $50, the women were taken to jail and later paid the fines and were released.

Inflation Kills Plan

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Plans have been abandoned for construction of an 18-story hotel on the site of the old Lehigh Valley Railroad station, which has been demolished.

Developer Richard U. Wilson said he dropped the plan because of skyrocketing construction costs and high interest rates. The hotel was to have been operated by the Hilton Hotel Corp.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened higher in moderately active trading today.

Despite a general feeling of optimism some hesitation may develop today prior to President Nixon's address tonight on the Cambodian operation.

Specialized Treatment At N. Dutchess Hospital

RHINEBECK — An about-face from usual medical procedure is happening at Northern Dutchess Hospital these days — patients from large metropolitan hospitals are being transferred here for specific and specialized treatment.

The drawing card is Dr. Kenneth Appell, specialist in vascular surgery, who joined the NDH active medical staff in 1969.

Dr. Appell developed a surgical technique to aid patients requiring the use of an artificial kidney. He perfected his technique while on staff in the renal unit of the Bronx VA Hospital, and performed his first operation there in March, 1965. Now he is at Northern Dutchess Hospital and although his procedure has been studied by surgeons all over the world, he remains the man to ask, the expert, and doctors continue to refer patients to his personal attention.

Briefly Dr. Appell explained that those suffering from kidney failure must use an artificial kidney (renal dialysis) as often as three times each week for six to 12 hours each time. One immediate problem which presented itself to physicians was how best to "hook up" the patient to the machine with a minimum of complication and inconvenience.

The most widely-used method at that time was called the external shunt — the joining of an artery and vein with plastic tubing to form a "U" outside the patient's body, usually his forearm. It was a relatively simple process to insert the tubes from the artificial kidney into the two halves of the external shunt, allowing the patient's blood to flow through the various cleansing solutions in the machine and back into his body.

"This worked well," Dr. Appell said, "but there were too many drawbacks. The shunt had to be kept sterile at all times, certainly restricting the patient's activity and there was a high degree of infection and blood clotting.

"We wanted to find a way that would eliminate the tubing and still allow repeated access to the patient's circulation," Dr. Appell said.

With two associates in the renal unit of the Bronx VA Dr. Appell developed his a-v fistula (arterial-venous fistula) operation — the direct joining of an artery to a vein under the skin. The resulting permanent and internal shunt requires no special care and is not as vulnerable tc infection or clotting.

The "hook-up" to the artificial kidney is completed with two needles (one for arterial blood flowing into the machine and the other for the purified blood returning to the patient's body via the vein) inserted in the patient's arm a few inches above the site of the a-v fistula.

Since his first operation in 1965 Dr. Appell has performed more than 80 similar procedures, the last two here at Northern Dutchess Hospital, and has been widely published in medical journals. Today the a-v fistula procedure is considered a standard technique in the world of international medicine.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 3, 1970 TWENTY-ONE

Council for Beauty, No Mini-Parks Action

By LYNN MULVANEY
KINGSTON

For the sixth consecutive year, the City of Kingston will participate in the New York State Division for Youth's beautification program.

At a meeting of the Common Council Tuesday night, it was agreed that $14,825 be expended to finance the project for which matching state funds are available.

Authorization for the program was requested by the Kingston Recreation Commission and measure was sponsored by Alderman Clifford Sinsabaugh (D-10th Ward).

The council also voted to enter into an agreement with Musicians Union Local 215 for six concerts to be given this summer at Academy Green. Funds for the program had already been allocated.

The Ulster County Community Action Committee's summer program, which will aid 600 youngsters, also drew the council's attention and authorization for the transfer of funds in the amount of $3,000 was given in order to provide the city's share of the total cost.

No council action was taken on the request of the Recreation and Parks Commission for the city to make application for matching state funds for the construction of seven mini parks in the city.

The matter was referred to the finance committee in view of the fact that it is reported some alderman questioned the choice of locations for the mini-parks.

Alderman Titus Sims (R-13th Ward) requested and was successful in having boundary lines of voting districts in his ward changed. Sims said he was seeking a "natural division" of districts for the convenience of voters. Under the change, all residents residing north of the Penn Central Railroad will be in District One and will vote at Maennerchor Hall. All residents south of the Penn Central Railroad will be in District Two and will vote at the Municipal Auditorium.

Under the old system, there were 650 persons registered in District One. Under the new plan there will be 542. In District Two there were 482 and there will be 590.

In other business, the council agreed to enter into an agreement for test borings for the fire station on Meadow Street with the cost to be borne by the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency. It also sanctioned a resolution presented by John Heitzman, (D-First Ward) calling for the construction of a sign on the southerly side of Millers Lane at the city line establishing restrictions of the weight of vehicles. The maximum gross weight allowed will be three tons.

Criticism of the recent groundbreaking ceremonies for the new City Hall was made by Alderman Sinsabaugh who called it "disgraceful." He aimed his anger specifically at workmen on the site who continued their work during the proceedings, "spewing dust all over food. Sinsabaugh said those attending had to wade through ankle-high dirt and dust. "It was far from the type of ceremony I would like to have seen," he concluded.

Alderman Emillio Primo (D-Eighth Ward) called for a June 8 meeting of the council members to view and discuss with engineers the maps for the new proposed arterial.

Commendation for Alexander Yosman, director of the Housing Authority and the Senior Citizens Advisory Board was suggested by John Finch (D-Fifth Ward) who lauded them for their efforts in conjunction with the recent senior citizen conference at Ulster County Community College.

Alderman John Machione (R-Second Ward) also asked that letters be sent to those persons no longer serving city boards, terms expired, them for their service to the city.

An invitation to all aldermen to attend the July 11 Jaycee Soap Box Derby went out from Alderman Heitzman in whose ward the event will take place.

Alderman Edward Norton (D-recently replaced when their 11th Ward) presided at the meeting in place of Alderman at Large T. Robert Gallo who is presently serving as acting mayor.

Mrs. Eleanor Bruhn, deputy city clerk acted in place of City Clerk Louis DeCicco. Both Mayor Francis R. Koenig and DeCicco are attending the New York State Mayor's Conference at Grossingers.

Paltz Sophomore Killed In Rt. 44-55 Accident

By WALTER S. CLARK
KERHONKSON

A 19-year-old Bronx youth was fatally injured at 2 p.m Tuesday when the car he was driving went out of control on Route 44-55 about 5.3 miles east of Route 209 in the Town of Rochester and overturned after crashing into an embankment on the side of the highway.

Ellenville State Police reported Warren D. Nadler, of 900 Lydig Avenue, Bronx, and Albany Post Road, Town of New Paltz, was the victim of the traffic accident.

A spokesman at State University College at New Paltz said today that Nadler was member of the sophomore class at the college. He would have graduated with the class of 1972, it was said.

Ulster County Coroner Henry S. Hartley of Saugerties investigated the fatality with BCI Officers J. M. Mahoney and Edward Whalen and Troopers O. E. Gray and W. E. Hubert of the Ellenville State Police.

Coroner Hartley said today that after an examination of the body, it was determined Nadler died of a broken neck. He ruled the death accidental.

Nadler was the 14th person to lose his life in highway accidents this year. The 14th traffic death was recorded by authorities in 1969 on March 1, after an 82-year-old Kingston woman was killed when hit by a taxicab at the intersection of Fair and Pearl Streets.

According to state police reports, Nadler riding alone in a convertible, was traveling in a westerly direction on the highway and negotiating a left curve upgrade, when the car apparently went out of control. Troopers said the vehicle skidded sideways for some distance before it slammed into an embankment and overturned on its top on the pavement.

Nadler, who authorities said was wearing a seat belt at the time, was trapped in the wreckage of the automobile until he was extricated by passing motorists and troopers who were dispatched to the scene to investigate.

Troopers said the youth was pronounced dead at the scene.

According to State Police reports, the probable cause for the accident was traveling too fast for conditions.

In another accident accident investigated by Kingston State Police, Matthew O'Leary, 7, of Lakeview Avenue, Town of Ulster, was injured Tuesday night when his bicycle was involved in a collision with a car driven by Rececca B. Kestin of Hillside Avenue. The mishap occurred on Lakeview Avenue near Scudder Avenue.

The injured boy was take to Benedictine Hospital and treated for contusions and abrasions of the stomach.

Kingston troopers also reported that Edna E. Brink, of Saugerties, received contusions of the right leg when her car was involved in a mishap at Caldor's parking lot yesterday.

THE "BIG" SALE OF THE ENTIRE YEAR WITH GUARANTEED SAVINGS

ABRAHAM FIENBERG
Founder

WILLIAM A. FIENBERG
President

CHESTER L. FIENBERG
General Manager

Dear Friends of Standard:

The 12 months since our last birthday have been hectic ones; each store has set new sales records and even now, when businessmen are complaining of poor sales, we at Standard are proud to announce that 1970 to date finds us more than 15% ahead of last year!

We think you might be interested in some of the reasons why 69 year-old Standard keeps growing and growing. Our stores are clean, well-lighted, air conditioned; parking is available at our doorstep; our employees are trained and supervised in matters of courtesy and knowledge of the newest in furniture styles and color.

Our own multi-million dollar purchasing power as upstate New York's largest furniture organization plus that of the buying groups with which we are affiliated, enables us to offer you better values.

And finally, our No Charge for Credit policy saves our customers over $250,000.00 a year in finance charges.

Though we're 69 years old we're still hungry for your business. Look us over, shop us, compare. We'll both be glad you did.

Sincerely,

William A. Fienberg

HIGHLIGHTS of a dance revue by Lucille's Dance Studio will include the "Merry Old Land of Oz" featuring Mary Beth Houck (l-r) as the Tin Man; Gina Misasi, Scarecrow; Maureen Houck, "Dorothy; Gina DiDonna, Dandy Lion. The show will be given Friday, June 12 and Saturday, June 13 at the George Washington School. Proceeds will be donated to the Ulster County Community Chest. All seats are reserved and may be obtained from students or at the studio in Kingston.

Organ Concert Scheduled June 7

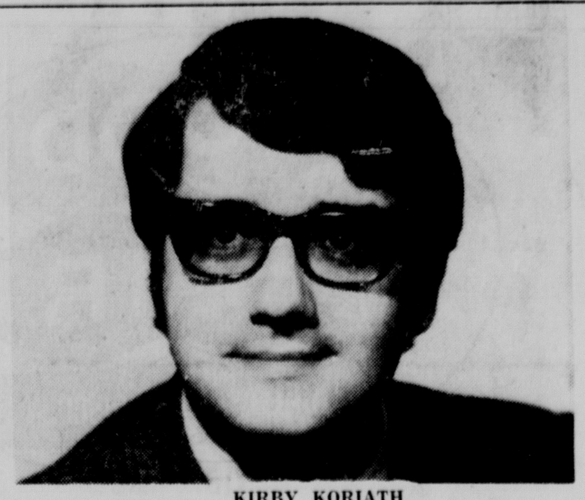

Immanuel Lutheran Church will present an organ concert on June 7th, 1970, at 4 p.m. Kirby Koriath, doctoral candidate at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N.Y. will be guest artist.

Mr. Koriath began his instruction in organ while attending Concordia College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He furthered his study of the instrument at Concordia College, Ft. Wayne, Indiana, where he received his BA Degree in 1963, and at Concordia Seminary where in 1967 he received his BD Degree.

Mr. Koriath received his Masters Degree in Church Music from the Eastman School of Music in 1969. He is a student of Russell Saunders.

His program at Immanuel will include works by Bach, Handel, Peeters, Langlois, and Frank. According to the Rev. Gary L. Mehl, Pastor of Immanuel, "the public is invited and the program that Mr. Koriath will present should be of great interest to the cultural and religious community.

"A free-will offering will be taken to help defray expenses.

Tea for Two

Dear Miss Brookfield:

About a year ago I met an attractive widower who is extremely well-fixed financially. We go out a good deal but he avoids the subject of marriage and also makes it very clear that he plans to leave all his money to his two married sons. Even now, he is very generous with them. I work. Recently we discussed the possibility of taking a vacation abroad together this summer. We would travel together but our accommodations would be separate. He said he would pay the day-to-day expenses but he wants me to pay my own fare and hotel bills. He is "a gentleman of the old school." But do you think this is fair? He can well afford to pay for everything, but I have to scrimp and save for this vacation. If it ever dawns on him to propose, do you think he'll be a s tight-fisted with his money after marriage?

P.L., Boston, Mass.

Dear P.L.:

If you want to travel with "a gentleman of the old school," you'll have to abide by old-school rules: pay your own way.

We can't predict how generous a husband he'll be, but perhaps you had better decide which you are most attracted to — the man or his money. If it's his money, clear out before "dawn" breaks. If it's the man, it'll work out.

The Changes

Dear Miss Brookfield:

If menstruation began at the age of 10, would this indicate whether the menopause will be early or late?

A.D., Plymouth, Mass.

Dear A.D.:

Many influences help to determine the age at which menopause occurs, such as heredity, climate and health. But authorities generally agree that an early onset of menstruation is usually associated with late appearance of the change of life.

Dear Miss Brookfield:

Is it possible that after menopause sex can become a problem for a woman? I am 53.

Dear R.H.:

If you are asking whether menopause diminishes sexual desire, the answer, is no, according to many authorities on the subject. As a matter of fact, Dr. William H. Cooper, author of "A Husband's Guide to Menopause," points out that women reach their peak of sexual life during menopause, at about the age of 49. At this age, a man's sexual desire has decreased somewhat, for he usually reaches his peak around the age of 35.

On the other hand, there are sexual difficulties that are related to the menopause. Changes in tissues at this time can make sexual relations painful. This troublesome sympton is usually due to lack of the female hormone estrogen, and can easily be treated. Consult your doctor about this.

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Radel-White Nuptials Announced Here Recently

MRS. THOMAS E. WHITE
(Lakeside Studio)

St. Peter's Church, Kingston, was the setting for the wedding of Miss Beverly Ann Radel, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Holstein of 60 VanGaasbeck Street, Kingston, and Thomas E. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everest White of Lamplite Lane, Williston, Vt., on Saturday, May 23. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Radel.

The Rev. Daniel Croston officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Anne Goldrick, organist, accompanied Mrs. Betty Sass who sang traditional wedding selections. Baskets of blue and white gladioli decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her brother, Alfred E. Radel, the bride wore a gown of organza, fashioned with a high neckline, empire bodice, and long full sleeves. Venise lace with satin ribbon trimmed the neckline, bodice and A-line skirt. A tiara of Venise lace daisies held her silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade of miniature white carnations with light blue roses.

Mrs. Betty Dawkins of Kingston was matron of honor for her cousin. She wore a pale aquamarine silk and worsted gown, styled with a high cowl neckline and floor length skirt. The bodice and Empire waistline were banded with white quipure lace. She wore a stylized headpiece with matching tulle flirtation veil and carried a nosegay of blue and white carnations.

Attendants were Maryellen White, sister of the bridegroom, Williston, Vt.; Carol Chick, Penny Radel, sister-in-law of the bride, Mary Lou Sapp, Gayle King, and Mary Tegeler, all of Kingston. Their gowns, headpieces and bouquets were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant's.

James White of Williston, Vt., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Dennis White, brother of the bridegroom, Vermont; Richard Dawkins, Thomas Tegeler, both of Kingston; Vincent Lafera, Matthew Liggan, both of Rosendale; James Adams of Rochester.

A reception for 163 guests was held at Walnut Grove Rstaurant, Kingston.

For her wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania, the bride selected a lilac A-line dress with matching double breasted coat and lilac white accessories.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School and MDTA Secretarial School, was employed by Metropolital Life Insurance Company.

Her husband, an alumnus of Rondout Valley High School, attended Ulster County Community College, and is employed by IBM, Burlington, Vt.

Mr. and Mrs. White will reside at 919 Shelburne Road, South Burlington, Vt.

Flower Show Plans Finalized

Plans are now complete for the 46th annual Standard Flower Show, "Thru the Year with Flowers," to be presented by the Saugerties Society of Little Gardens on Wednesday, June 10, at the Masonic Hall, Russell Street, Saugerties, from 2:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Ever alert to improvements for the convenience of both viewers and exhibitors, the show's staging committee, under the direction of Mrs. Daniel Lamb, announces that the entrance this year will be at the side door nearest the front of the building.

According to hospitality chairman, Mrs. Michael Mattia, there will be a table of refreshments with punch and cookies.

Hostesses will be in attendance at all times to answer any flower show questions viewers may have.

The non-competitive Commercial Exhibits Division, "Holidays with Flowers," will feature decorations by The Flower Garden, Overbaugh's Flower Shop and Island Nursery.

Mrs. Francis Lawless, show general chairman, and Mrs. Earl Moore, vice-chairman, again emphasized that nonmember are invited to exhibit in all competitive classes.

Welcome Wagon Engaged Girl Party

Welcome Wagon will be starting a new service for engaged girls in the Kingston-Saugerties area under the direction of Thyra Taylor, hostess. This is a similiar service as when Welcome Wagon calls on new families moving into the community. In both cases, information is provided regarding civic and social service agencies. For the engaged girls, Welcome Wagon will be giving a party in their honor.

The first party will be June 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the Walnut Grove, Field Court, Kingston. The girls will be provided with information to help them plan their wedding and set up housekeeping.

Hostess Thyra Taylor will describe the information and gifts to be given each girl, make awards, and introduce the program. A corsage will be presented to the engaged girls from Burgevin's Florist.

Specially collected bridal fashions for the bride, maid of honor, mother and flower girl will be shown, sponsored by the Gladys Bridal Shoppe, complimented by fashions for the men from Esposito's Formal Wear. The Jennifer Shop will have distinctive fashions for the trouseau and Greenwald's Travel Sevice will show a film. There will be many other displays and surprises from the area businesses.

A reception will follow with a wedding cake from Ketterer's Bakery. Music throughout the evening will be presented by Joseph Biscoe.

There is no charge for this party, but reservations are necessary! If you are engaged to be married, or the mother of a prospective bride, or know of someone who is engaged and would like further information, call Thyra Taylor at Saugerties or call the Welcome Wagon Answering Service, Kingston.

Jung-Conlin Marriage

Miss Christa Mila Jung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jung, 35 Plattekill Drive, Mt. Marion, became the bride of Terry Anthony Conlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conlin, RD 5, Box 164, Kingston, on Saturday, May 9 in St. Joseph's Church.

The Rev. James LeBar, St. Joseph's Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony, and the Rev. John Needham, Plattekill Reformed Church, assisted. James Sweeney provided traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of spring flowers decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Empire, A-line gown of silk organza. The bodice and full bishop sleeves were appliqued with daisies and Venise lace. The chapel length mantilla was edged with the same lace and daisies spotted over it. She wore flowers in her hair and carried white, pink and lavender carnations.

Miss Gail Tonnesen, Mt. Marion, served as maid of honor. Attendants were the Misses Linda Conlin, sister of the bridegroom, San Francisco, Calif.; Lilly Jung, cousin of the bride, Bridgeton, N.J.; Lori Hunter, junior bridesmaid, Mt. Marion; and Mrs. Hildegard Krummp, Vineland, N.J. They wore floor-length, A-line gowns of floral chiffon, styled with bishop sleeves, cowl necklines and satin ribbons around the waistlines. Matching ribbons were entwined in their hair and they carried white baskets filled with carnations.

Douglas Pettit, 95 Green Street, Kingston, was best man. Ushers were Ralph Butler, Mt. Marion; Konrad Krummp, cousin of the bride, Vineland, N.J; Peter Jung, brother of the bride, Mt. Marion; and Stephen Jordon, cousin of the bridegroom, Castansia, N.Y.

A reception for 100 guests was held at Oehler's Mt. Lodge.

For her wedding trip to Virginia Beach, the bride wore a white dress with a pink coat and white accessories.

Mrs. Conlin is a 1966 graduate of Saugerties High School and is employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance Hall of Records, Kingston.

Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High School, Class of 1965. He served four years in the U.S. Air Force and is a Vietnam veteran. He is employed as a plumber and is a member of the Local 223 Plumber's Union.

Nuptial Vows Are Exchanged Here

Miss Nancy Domenica Nanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nunzio J. Nanna of 67 South Manor Avenue, Kingston, exchanged nuptial vows with Carl A. Wiegert Jr., 101 Elmendorf Street, Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wiegert Sr., 16 Ora Place, Kingston, at St. Joseph's Church, Kingston, on Saturday, May 23.

The Rev. Alfred Pizzuto officiated at the double ring ceremony. James Sweeney, organist accompanied Miss Rita Horvers who sang traditional wedding selections. Baskets of white gladioli and large white chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride sleected a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over silk taffeta. The gown was styled with a fitted basque bodice, scalloped Sabrina neckline, long trumpet sleeves and full skirt of lace tiers accented with white satin ribbon and streamers down the front. A lace Camelot cap held her cathedral veil which was edged with Chantilly lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of lily of the valley and stephanotis.

Mary Nanna of Kingston was miad of honor for her sister in a blue, floor length gown of chiffon. The gown was fashioned with a fitted empire bodice accented with white Venice lace, a mandarin neckline, long Bishop sleeves and a soft flowing skirt. Clusters of chiffon loops and petals held her four tiered bouffant veil which matched her gown. She carried a bouquet of miniature white carnations, tipped in blue, and baby's breath.

Attendants were Miss Donna Pisano, Hurley, Miss Angela Barbarossa, Norwich, both cousins of the bride; Mrs. Janis Jansen of Kingston; and Miss Kathy Hart of Kingston. Their green, pink, yellow and orchid gowns and headpieces, respectively, were fashioned identically to that of the honor attendant's. They carried cascade bouquets of white miniature carnations and baby's breath dyed to match their gowns.

Susan Semenjuk, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. Her gown was styled similarly to those of the other attendants' and she carried a basket of white miniature carnations and baby's breath. A crown of the same flowers served as her headpiece.

Charles Fatum of Hinsdale Street, Kingston, was best man. Ushers were James Priest, Saugerties; William Wiegert, Kingston, Terry Wiegert, Latham, both brothers of the bridegroom; and Victor Semenjuk, Hurley, cousin of the bride. Mark Pisano of Hurley, cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

A reception was held at Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston.

For her wedding trip through the New England States, the bride wore a deep purple, jeweled crepe dress with matching accessories. The dress was made by the bride's mother.

The bride, a graduate of St. Joseph's School and St. Ursula's Academy, is employed by New York Telephone Comapny.

Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, served four years in the U.S. Navy and was stationed aboard the aircraft carrier, Hancock. He held the rank of aviation fire control electronics technician, second class. He is employed by Ferroxcube Corporation in Saugerties.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiegert Jr. will reside at Elmendorf Street in Kingston.

Sandra Lee Grothkopp Weds Wayne E. MacDonald

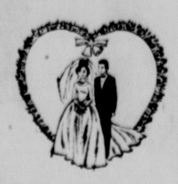

MRS. WAYNE E. MACDONALD
(Lakeside Studio)

Miss Sandra Lee Grothkopp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grothkopp of Tillson, became the bride of Wayne E. MacDonald of 41 Downs Street, Kingston, at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Kingston, on Sunday, May 31. The bridegroom is the stepson and son, respectively, of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Krom of Kingston.

The Rev. John H. Frenssen, pastor Emeritus of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Organist John F. Park accompanied the Rev. Frederick E. Preuss who sang traditional wedding selections. Arrangements of white and yellow gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace over crepe sateen gown. The gown was styled with an empire waistline, short puffed sleeves and was accented in the back with crepe sateen bow and hem-length streamers. A seed pearl and lace tiara held her ballerina length veil and she carried a white Bible decorated with a white orchid and streamers.

Karen Grothkopp of Tillson was maid of honor for her sister in a light green gown styled identically to that of the bride's. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a yellow daisy nosegay.

Margaret Sass of New Salem was an attendant. Her light yellow dress and matching headpiece was styled similarly to the bride's and she carried a white daisy nosegay.

Stanley VanKleeck of Kingston was best man. Ushers were Jeffrey Schechter, Kingston, and Glenn Grothkopp, brother of the bride, Tillson.

A reception for 50 guests was held at the home of the bride.

The bride, a graduate of Kingston High School, will be graduated from Ulster County Community College June 7 with an AAS degree in Nursing. Her husband attended New Paltz High School, served two years with the U. S. Army, and is employed at Charles Ramsey Corp.

When they return from their wedding trip to Canada, they will be at home at 41 Downs Street, Kingston.

Food Sale Friday

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of United Trinity Church, Wurts and Hunter Street, Kingston, will hold a food sale at the home of Mrs. Frank Thompson Sr., 256 West Chestnut Street, Kingston, on Friday, from 2 to 5 p.m.

TOO LATE: New York's 3rd baseman, Joe Foy's, tag is too late as Atlanta's Felix Millan steals third in first inning. Umpire Tom Gorman spreads his arms on the call. The Braves took a 4-1 win from the Mets in a game that saw an hours rain delay at third inning. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Allen Paces Homer Barrage

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Richie Allen, Hank Aaron, Tony Perez and Johnny Bench have set many a pitcher to biting his fingernails, but when Phil Niekro does it the hitters are in the palm of his hand.

The aforementioned sluggers all played long ball Tuesday night, while pitcher Niekro used a one-hour rain delay to give himself an oral manicure and get his knuckleball under control.

Allen crashed two home runs, one a grand slam, and drove in seven runs as St. Louis thrashed San Francisco 12-1; Aaron backed Niekro's four-hit pitching with his first homer in two weeks as Atlanta downed the New York Mets 4-1; Bench drilled two homers and Perez one as Cincinnati thumped Philadelphia 7-2; the San Diego Padres blasted six Pittsburgh pitchers for 19 hits in a 14-8 slugfest and Houston tripped Montreal 6-4.

The other scheduled National League game, Los Angeles at Chicago, was rained out.

In the American League, Baltimore stopped Oakland 5-1, Boston whipped Minnesota by the same score, the New York Yankees edged Kansas City 3-2, Washington nipped the Chicago White Sox 4-3 and Cleveland won two from Milwaukee 4-1 an' 9-5 and California shaded Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings.

Manager Red Schoendienst returned Allen from the cleanup spot to No. 3 in the St. Louis batting order and the slugging first baseman, who hadn't homered in seven games, exploded.

He singled home a run in the first inning, belted a two-run homer in the fifth and capped the rout with his grand slam in the eighth. Backed by a 15-hit attack, Steve Carlton held the Giants to four hits—including Willie McCovey's 16th homer—and posted his first triumph since May 11.

The grand slam was the fifth of Allen's career and home run No. 18 for the season.

"The big reason for the change in the batting order," explained Schoendienst, "is getting Allen back up there to No. 3, where he can hurt people even more. I don't care if the score is 10-9 or 1-0, he's in a position now where he's going to be coming up when the game will either be won or lost."

The Mets and Braves, meeting for the first time since last year's NL playoffs, were locked in a 1-1 tie when the rains came in the third inning.

"I didn't like the weather," said Niekro. "The first couple of innings I struggled. The heavy air kept pushing the ball down. During the delay, I bit my fingernails down so I could get a better grip on the ball and I did a lot better."

When play resumed, the Braves went ahead in the fourth on Bob Didier's run-scoring single. Aaron, who hadn't homered since May 17, iced it in the seventh with a two-run shot, his 17th.

"A home run always feels good," said Aaron, "whether you hit 10 in a week, once a week, once a month or once a year."

Tommie Agee homered for the Mets' run.

Bench slammed two homers, one a three-run wallop, and Perez, the majors' leading slugger, socked No. 19 as the Reds scored a rain-shortened triumph over the Phillies, their fifth straight win.

Rookie Wayne Simpson, 6-1, yielded six hits and fanned seven before rain halted play with the Phils batting in the top of the eighth.

San Diego got a two-run homer from Clarence Gaston, triples by Chris Cannizzaro, Tommy Dean and Jose Arcia (two) and doubles by Ollie Brown, Steve Huntz and Nate Colbert in routing the Pirates. Willie Stargell homered for Pittsburgh.

The Padres kayoed Bob Veale with a six-run first inning and never let up.

"I'd say our pitching wasn't too sound," ventured Pirate skipper Danny Murtaugh. "A couple of batboys even sneaked up there and got a couple of hits."

Johnny Edwards triggered a three-run second inning with an RBI single and tripled home another run in the fourth as the Astros sent the Expos to their ninth straight setback.

Devine and Garagiola Back Reserve Clause

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The defense in the Curt Flood case was expected today to put on the stand Cincinnati owner Francis Dale, one of a steady stream of baseball officials testifying that the sport cannot exist without the controversial reserve system.

Mark Hughes, chief counsel for baseball's defendants, estimated it would be the end of the week or the first part of next week before the defense had exhausted its list of witnesses.

Also scheduled to testify today was John Gaherin, chief labor negotiator for the owners.

In testimony Tuesday during the case in which Flood is challenging baseball's reserve system, the defendants called Bing Devine, general manager of the St. Louis Cardinals. Devine traded Flood to Philadelphia in the transaction that provoked the suit. Also called were NBC broadcaster Joe Garagiola and Joe Cronin, president of the American League.

Devine said it was his opinion that "trading contracts of players plays a comparable roll to player development" in building a team. He revealed that the Cardinals had spent $1.75 million for player development and acquisition last year.

Devine also revealed, under cross-examination, that he had exercised the option renewal clause in the player's contract when slugger Richie Allen and pitcher Steve Carlton became holdouts with the Cards earlier in the spring.

Under the clause a player is automatically re-signed. One of the keys to Flood's suit is the contention that when a player is traded without his permission his rights are violated.

Flood also is contending that the option renewal clause enables the sport to operate in restraint of trade within the framework of the reserve system.

Garagiola, a former catcher with four National League clubs, testified the reserve system was reasonable and necessary and said, "To me it's the best system. Nobody has come up with anything different. If they change the name, everybody probably would be happy."

Cronin also testified that the sport needs the reserve system, said he didn't think players were in a weaker bargaining position than the clubs in salary negotiations and said, as far as he knew, players were "as satisfied as satisfied could be" with their salaries.

Section 9 Baseball Out?

By MORT LAFFIN

KINGSTON

"It doesn't look good at this time," said Kingston High School Baseball coach Ron Cole, referring to the Section Nine Class A playoff scheduled at Monroe-Woodbury High, 10 a.m. Saturday, June 6. Kingston, winners of the DUSO League, are scheduled to play the Rockland County champions in the Class A showdown.

Possible postponement of the event, for the second straight year, is being caused by the fact that Rockland County's league is in the throes of a two or three-way tie that very probably won't be broken by game time Saturday.

On the other hand, Kingston High School has gone on record that the Maroons won't be playing any more baseball games after Saturday, due to an academic policy set at the school.

"At the Section Nine meeting, three weeks ago, when both ourselves and New burgh were tied for the DUSO League lead, both schools went on record saying that we would be interested in a sectional playoff, but that we wouldn't play any later than Saturday, June 6," said Cole.

He went on: "Our philosophy has always been that baseball is over no later than the first week in June. After that, the boys must concentrate on their respective studies. We don't want to interfere with the educational process."

"Anyway, their county chairman doesn't want to play at a neutral site. He wants to flip a coin to decide where the game will be played. If we won, we couldn't get Dietz Satdium. Also, we finished last week and haven't had a game since. They have been playing all along. We always have to wait for them, even though we play as many games as they do. I have scheduled practice for today and Friday. Baseball practice is boring enough without practicing for something that might never come off," concluded Cole.

Joe Banyo, Section Nine Baseball Chairman from Valley Central is being optimistic about the chances for the game's survival. However, the word around has it that the tie is a three-way one, not two and couldn't possibly be broken in time for a Saturday game.

The teams involved in the Rockland fiasco are defending champion Clarkstown, 12-3, Sufferr 12-3 and North Rockland, 12-4 (possibly 12-3). Final regular season games were set for Friday; but school officials are trying to change the games to Thursday, leaving Friday open for a playoff and Saturday for the sectionals.

It is quite likely that if the game can't be played Saturday that it won't be played at all and Cole as stated that Kingston's policy won't waver.

The Class B title game is set for Saturday, 2 p.m. on the same field. Rondout Valley, champions of the Ulster County Athletic League, will play Washingtonville, Orange County League Section A winner.

Pairings for the C-D game are still incomplete, but the games themselves have been scheduled for 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at Chester High School field.

Ellenville Forfeits Village Baseball Title

FALLSBURG

Ellenville High School's shortstop, Joe Pomeroy, suffered an ankle injury in the eighth inning of yesterday's game with Fallsburg and couldn't continue, forcing umpires to award the game to host Fallsburg on a forfeit. The "freak" loss cost Ellenville the DUSO Village Crown, the title going to Liberty for the fourth time in five years.

The Ellies had only nine players in uniform for the tilt and couldn't replace Pomeroy when it was ascertained that his ankle might have been fractured. Thus, the game went to the home side.

Liberty had finished the season with a 7-2 record. Ellenville had played Fallsburg to a 3-3 tie last Thursday, the game being called because of rain. The tie game wasn't rescheduled because the teams couldn't decide on a date, so it stood, giving Ellenville a 6-1-1 record going into yesterday's tilt.

With the "loss", the Blue Devils dropped to 6-2-1, with the Redskins slipping in the back door for the crown. Fallsburg was 2-6-1, Monticello, 2-7 in the final standings.

The Blue Devils had gone ahead in the top of the eighth and were out to protect the one run lead. But Fallsburg came from behind to rally as pinch-hitter Mike Goldfarb singled and moved to second on a single by Wayne Woodard.

Howie Baker went in to run for Goldfarb and streaked for third as Mark Ruderman dropped a bunt along the third baseline. Losing pitcher Terry Sheeley fielded the ball and flipped to Pomeroy, covering the bag. Baker slid safely into the bag, catching the fielder's ankle in the process.

After 10 minutes, it was decided that he couldn't continue and the game was awarded to Fallsburg.

OCS Golf Team Routs Paltz

LAKE MOHONK

Onteora High School's golf team defeated host New Paltz, 11½-1½ yesterday, tying the Ganders of Rondout Valley High at 5-1 in the Ulster County Athletic League. The Ganders and Indian linksmen will play off for the crown Thursday at Wiltwyck Country Club, starting at 2:30 p. m.

Yesterday's match, played at the par 34 Lake Mohonk Course, was also a UCAL battle. Onteora is 14-1-1 for the season.

Howie Gordon led the Indians with a one-over-par 35 for medalist honors. Gordon scored a birdie three on the par four third, played two over after that for three points against Dave Thorton, who hit a 41-0.

John Buoymaster had the best shot at breaking par for the visitors as he birdied the first hole, a par four, and the sixth, also a par four. John however had a ball out of bounds and finished with a 38-3, over Dan Farrell, 43-0.

Other scores were: Vlad Hoyt 40-2½ over Jim Robertson, 50-½; Scotty Dean 38-3 points with a birdie on the par four seventh, over Russ Abrams, 50-0. Drew Horvath, 42 with a birdie on the par four first, over Steve Collins, 46.

City Slow Pitch Circuit Produces Some New Stars

KINGSTON

The Kingston City slow pitch softball league has been producing some new stars while erratic scoring has been taking place.

In recent games, Rhinebeck Merchants topped Blue Gardenia 4-1, Carroll's Drive-In defeated the Post Office 7-3, Perry's Restaurant stopped Wayside Inn 14-3 and Esposito's Cleaners romped over Shamrock Tavern 23-5.

In other games Bloomington Inn won over Kingston Hospital 15-10, Onteora Boosters dumped The Daily Freeman 13-2, Lamoreaux's Mobil defeated Hurley Haven 8-4 and the By-Pass Braves won a three inning stopper over Hucktrol 18-1.

The Rhinebeck Merchants-Blue Gardenia game was a real pitchers duel as John LaBotsky allowed the Gardenia's but five hits. Jesse Adams of the Gardenia team gave up only one more hit than LaBotsky. Dave Zigler had a triple to lead the Merchants and Jim Cartwright was the only player with two hits in the game for the Gardenia's.

Rich Kelderhouse held Wayside Inn to just six hits and his team had 15 safeties enroute to a 14-3 victory. Eric Blackwell led Perry's with a triple, double and single. Don Wells and Charles Bishop had home runs for Perry's. Scott Wilson of Wayside stroked two home runs.

The Post Office team outhit Carroll's 16-14, but lost the game 7-3. Harold Hughes led the Mailmen with a double and two singles. Carroll's scored six runs in the top of the sixth to win after trailing 2-1.

Shorty (Mike) Amato and Bill Murphy slashed four hits each to lead the Esposito Cleaners bombardment over Shamrock Tavern 23-5. Joe Clausi and Rich Sickler each banged out a home run to aid the Cleaners attack.

The Daily Freeman went against Joe Friedel of the Onteora Boosters and found out what it's like to really get defeated. Friedel scattered 11 hits, but was touched for only two runs. One of those two runs came on a homer by Joe Darwak.

Meanwhile, the Boosters collected 18 hits off two of the three Freeman pitchers for 13 runs. Charlie Schroeder had a perfect night with four hits in four trips to the plate. Mike Blish hit a home run.

Lamoreaux's Mobile rallied for four runs in the fifth and added three more in the sixth to defeat Hurley Haven 8-4. Don Hobart led the hitters with three singles. Vince Clearwater had a home run for Hurley Haven.

Bloomington Inn won a 15-10 decision over Kingston Hospital. Leroy Sheffer led the Bloomington attack with three hits. Kingston Hospital had two men with three hits, Bill Stokes and Joe Cognone.

The By-Pass Braves won a three inning stopper from Hucktrol 18-1. Frank Spadafora gets credit for a one hitter as he faced only 11 batters. The Braves pounded out 17 hits. John Fiore and Bill Lezette each hit one home run.

Vote Ohio State Top College Team of '60s

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's 1968 national champions have been voted the outstanding college football team of the 1960s, according to a poll conducted by the American Broadcasting Com

Writers and broadcasters from all sections of the country gave Ohio State 870 points to 658 for the 1969 Texas team, Roone Arledge, president of ABC Sports, announced.

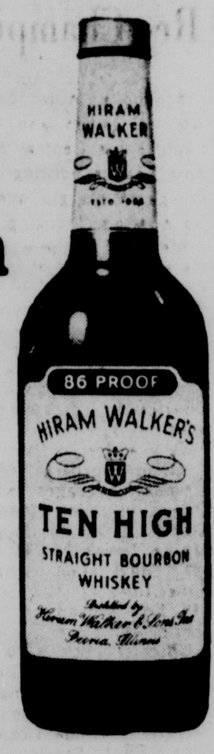

Ohio State compiled a 10-0 record in 1968, including a victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl. Texas was 11-0 last season and beat Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl.

A committee chosen by ABC Sports to screen all the great teams of the 1960s narrowed its choices down to Ohio State, 1968; Texas, 1969; Alabama, 1961; Southern California, 1962, and Texas, 1963.

Alabama polled 619 points, Southern Cal 576 and the 1963 Texas team 432.

Similar polls have been taken for the best coach, best game and best players of the 1960s. The winners will be announced at a later date.

Bruce McLaren Was Testing New Auto

GOODWOOD, England (UPI) —Bruce McLaren, a successful driver who turned to building race cars, died in the flaming wreckage of an auto he designed and was testing for this year's Canadian-American Challenge Cup series.

McLaren, a New Zealander who learned about cars as a helper in his father's Auckland service station, was killed Tuesday when his car exploded and rammed a concrete marshal's post during tests on the little-used Goodwood circuit.

The 32-year-old McLaren was found 20 feet from the distingegrated remains of the car he was testing. Police said his face was burned and concluded his engine must have exploded as he tore down the fast straighaway, hurtling the car into the reinforced bank.

The quiet, well-liked New Zealander was one of the world's fastest drivers both in sports cars and Formula One. He was also a top designer. His cars brought him the Can-Am championship in 1967 and 1969, while in the year between fellow New Zealander Denny Hulme piloted one to victory.

As a Formula One driver, he never became world champion, but always was close to it. Last year, he finished third, again in a car he designed and built himself.

Stirling Moss, whose crash on this same circuit in 1963 forced him permanently to give up racing, summed up the feeling of many persons whose tributes began pouring in to his pretty wife Patricia and young daughter, Amanda.

"He was a very, very good driver," said Moss, himself rated among the top along with Juan Fangio and Jim Clark. "He was a great technical developer. He was also a great person around the tracks. He was a family man and someone who will be missed not only by the spectators but by his fellow drivers and also the sport."

Rod Laver Dumps Gonzales

NEW YORK (UPI) —Rod Laver, near the peak of his game, methodically cut down Pancho Gonzales 6-3, 6-3, 6-1 in the semi-finals of the $200,000 Tennis Champions Classic Tuesday night at Madison Square Garden before 7,903.

Laver, twice a loswr to Gonzales this year, was in total command throughout as Pancho's service completely deserted him.

Laver by his victory won $15,500 and was certain of additional $15,000 by gaining the Classic final to be in July.

Laver went after Gonzales at the outset and tore through the first set yielding only two points off his entire service and Gonzales was fated not to break Laver in the entire match.

Gonzales had to fight for his life in virtually every game he served with scores going to duece, double duece and triple duece on many occassions. He was broken in the fourth game of the first set and the break came on a double fault.

In the second set, the lion appeared to stir only once when in the fourth game, he brought Laver to deuce twice but Rod took the game and roared back to hold his own service at love and Gonzales never really threatened thereafter.

The final set was a mere formality as Laver, with a magnificent variety of ground strokes, picked the tiring 42-year-old Gonzales apart.

Gonzales also received $12,500 as the loser of the match but he was eliminated from further Classic action.

In the evening's first match, Ken Rosewall, losing his service only once, defeated Tom Okker 6-2, 6-4, 6-2 in a $10,000 winner-take-all match which placed Rosewall in the other semi-final against Roy Emerson on Friday night. Rosewall and Emerson will split $25,000 with the winner advancing to meet Laver in the finals.

Amateur Favorites Leading All the Way

NEWCASTLE, Northern Ireland (AP) — It is beginning to look as though history is repeating itself in the British Amateur Golf Championship.

Defending champion Michael Bonallack of England and America's Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia, last year's runner-up, are rolling along and may meet again in the final. Bonallack won a year ago 3 and 2.

The 35-year-old Bonallack is after his fifth title. Hyndman, at 54,7 is trying to collect his first.

Both breezed around the Royal County Down's 6,928-yard, par 71 links in warm and dry weather Tuesday during the second day's competition of the week-long tourney.

Hyndman was one under par for 16 holes, including two birdies and an eagle, to eliminate Greg Young of Ireland 3 and 2 in his first-round match.

Bonallack, who won his first round match Monday, moved into the third round by defeating R.M. Kane, Ireland, 4 and 3.

New Rondout Course Gets Thiel for Pro

ACCORD

Walter Thiel, a Kingston born golf professional, has returned to the area after an absence of several years to take over the post of head pro at the new Rondout Pool, Golf and Tennis Association golf course.

Thiel, who began his golf career as a caddy at the Twaalfskill Club in Kingston, became a PGA professional at the age of 23.

He was the pro at Catskill Country Club for many years, before moving to the Otzinackson Country Club at Milton, Pa. There he fired a course record 67 which has stood unbroken for 12 years.

For the last nine years, Thiel has been affiliated with the Water Gap Country Club in Delaware Water Gap, Pa. During his tenure there, the Eastern Open was staged at the Water Gap club.

Thiel, who will represent the Rondout club in district tournaments, is at present formulating plans for the opening of the course which is tentatively set for mid-July. All other facilities will open officially on June 20.

The new pro will be available for lessons on June 6 for beginners those who want a refresher course and for juniors. Group, as well as individual lessons, will be offered.

In signing his contract with the executive committee of the Rondout association, Thiel said he considered the Rondout course a "challenging but fair test for any golfer." He describes it as one of the most scenic he has visited and is anticipating some excellent tournaments there in the future.

Monticello Results

MONTICELLO, NEW YORK, JUNE 2—It was almost a wire-to-wire victory Tuesday night for Levi Harner when he paced his own filly, Rockville Brook, through the mile in 2:07 flat during Monticello Raceway's featured fifth race.

Rockville Brook took over the lead at the quarter and never relinquished it. The New York bred, 3-year-old, successfully staved off the challenge of Sabiks Colt, who came in second under the guidance of Al Burton. Show horse in the contest was Brady's Chance, James Curran driving.

For Rockville Brook, it was her first victory of the year, and her second in the money in two times out. She also has a third place finish on her chart accomplished on May 22nd at Monticello. She is the offspring of Mighty Tide—Rocky Brook by Eben Scot.

Making the presentation to Mr. Harner Tuesday night was Rochester mayor Frank Lamb, president of the New York State Conference of mayors and municipal officials, now in convention at Grossingers.

2 and 4 made up the daily double at Monticetllo Raceway on Tuesday night, and the return was $15.80.

The opening trot was taken by Merrys Irene, an 11-year-old mare, driven by Sal Guglielmini. Despite her advanced age, Merrys Irene established a new lifetime winning mark by trotting the mile on Tuesday in 2:09.4, toppling her previous best time of 2:11 flat. In 1970 she has racked up 5 wins in 16 times out.

Milford Walnut, reined by Ken Heeney, won the second pace, breezing in 2:09.2, which is also a new lifetime mark for him. His previous time was 2:10.4. Milford Walnut is a four-year-old gelding who paces free-legged.

Tomorrow will see the third edition of Monticello's "Winsday," the Wednesday night feature at the Mighty M at which patrons receive valuable prizes, drawn by lot.

Goldberg Raps Rocky On Budget

By United Press International

Arthur J. Goldberg says "unsound and unfair" budget practices of Governor Rockefeller have brought the state "to the brink of a revenue crisis."

Goldberg, who faces Howard Samuels in the June 23 Democratic primary for the gubernatorial nomination, made his criticism Tuesday in Binghamton. His upstate tour continues today with stops in Elmira, Olean, Salamanca, Jamestown and Buffalo.

Goldberg said that Rockefeller promised no new taxes prior to the 1962 election and promised a pay-as-you-go policy before his first election in 1958. In 12 years, Goldberg said, the Rockefeller administration has provided the state with 48 new tax measures and the highest debt in the nation.

Goldberg promised to set up an emergency commission to prepare for "next year's tax crisis." He said he would close tax loopholes and make business "bear its fair share of taxes."

While Goldberg tended to the Republicans, Samuels leveled some criticism at both parties in a position paper.

"The present internal structure of our parties tends to alienate rather than involve the electorate," Samuels said. "Too often, party nominees are not the choice of the electorate."

Samuels, who has accused Democratic leaders of "bossism," said there should be direct election of paid county leaders, who would work full time in at least the larger counties.

An offer to televise a Goldberg-Samuels debate June 14 was rescinded Tuesday by WOKR-TV in Rochester when it was discovered Samuels was a stockholder in Flower City Broadcasting, owner of the station.

In other action among candidates:

— Democratic Senate contender Theodore C. Sorensen stated Tuesday that President Nixon should supply Israel with war planes. In a news conference at the entrance to the United Nations, Sorensen labeled the Mideast conflict more dangerous to U.S. interests than the Indochina war.

— Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, another Democratic Senate candidate, said he planned to request congressional hearings into baseball's anti-trust exemption because of attempted "repression and intimidation" of Jim Bouton by baseball commissioner Bowie Kuhn. Bouton is a pitcher who authored a book about baseball.

PRESIDENT MAY ATTEND — White House spokesmen report there is a possibility that President and Mrs. Nixon will attend the wedding of the President's niece, Laurene Nixon, in Newport Beach on June 27. Miss Nixon is the 26-year-old daughter of the President's brother, Donald Nixon. Nixon is a vice-president of Marriott Corp. His daughter attended Oregon State and was graduated from Whittier College, the President's alma mater. (UPI TELEPHOTO).

Mini-Bikes Causing Concern in Esopus

ESOPUS

Chief Constable Joseph Feraca of the Town police, said today the department plans strict enforcement of the State Vehicle and Traffic Law relating to the use of mini-bikes on state, county and town highways in this area.

Feraca said parents of children who own mini-bikes have been warned against permitting the operation of such vehicles without licenses, and he added that parents of violators may be petitioned into Family Court as a safety precaution against traffic accidents.

"Some 10 year olds have been seen operating mini-bikes on roads in our town," Feraca commented.

In other events connected with the town constabulary, Feraca said Joseph Sills, commander of the American Legion, has presented him with small American flags that will be worn on the uniforms of the town police in the future.

Require Political Clearance For Appointments of Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has confirmed it requires what amounts to political clearance for scientists appointed to important government advisory committees.

Frederic V. Malek, deputy undersecretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, confirmed in part reports from career government officials and scientists that the administration has injected an unusual degree of partisanship into selections for policy advisory committees.

"It is important to the secretary and the management of the department to have certain appointees to these committees reflect his philosophies and represent his interests," Malek said.

The committees—covering areas from air pollution to alcoholism, heart disease and cancer—help shape the policy direction of critical scientific programs.

Appointments to strictly technical, nonpolicy advisory committees are apparently not subject to the political checks.

Career program managers complain of "low batting averages" in placing scientists they deem qualified on their advisory committees.

Recently, antipollution officials had all five of their nominees for the Air Quality Advisory Board rejected by the Nixon administration, sources said. Five different men were appointed, three of them employes of industry.

Some scientists, in turn, report they have been denied advisory posts by the Republican administration because they are Democrats.

Malek was asked recently by Rep. John S. Monagan, D-Conn., chairman of the House government operations subcommittee, whether scientist-nominees to the committees are screened to determine their sympathies "to what you are trying to do or accomplish in your administration."

"That is correct," Malek replied.

Knowledgeable HEW officials say such political screening was unusual in past administrations.

"There was a certain cronism of scientists on the committee trying to get their friends aboard but no screening for politics," said one official.

Dr. Roger O. Egeberg, assistant HEW secretary for health, confirmed the political checks in an interview.

The screening, he agreed in response to a question, is particularly difficult because most scientists qualified and interested in committee posts are liberal Democrats connected with major universities.

Local Spelling Champs Start Competition Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Seventy-four local champions from Maine to California—and even Okinawa—shunted aside sightseeing today to begin testing wits in the 43rd National Spelling Bee.

The youngsters, 44 girls and 30 boys, were to kick off the two-day championship meet at 8:30 a.m. EDT, whipping through a warm-up round before Robinette Caldwell, 13, of Gastonia, N.C., was tossed the first competitive word.

A new champion was expected sometime Thursday after the challengers are eliminated one by one for misspelling a word In 1968 and 1969, it took 571 words before a champion was crowned.

Susan Yoachum, representing the Dallas (Tex.) Morning News, took the 1969 title with the two final words, "egalitarian" and "interlocutory."

The contestants have been in Washington since Monday, getting acquainted and touring the capital. Friday night a banquet to award $5,900 in prizes will wrap up the week's activities.

The spelling bee is sponsored by Scripps-Howard newspapers in 14 cities and 58 other daily and Sunday papers. It has been staged yearly since 1925 except for a three-year hiatus during World War II.

Coming the farthest was Tina Katayama, 13, representing the Okinawa Morning Star. Other contestants come from 33 states and represent 72 newspapers.

Pay Respects

BELGRADE (UPI)—Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon paid their respects Tuesday to Yugoslav President Tito and his wife on the second day of their visit to Yugoslavia.

The princess told Yugoslav newsmen that Tito, 78, is "an extraordinary man . . . I feel deep admiration for his not having changed at all since I first saw him 17 years ago."

Soviets Agree to More Talks For Arab-Israeli Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has agreed to more talks with the United States in an effort to find a political solution to the increasingly war-like Arab-Israeli confrontation.

But the agreement, understood to have been reached during a 40-minute meeting Tuesday between Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, is not expected to lead to any immediate settlement.

It was also understood the Soviet official refused to disclose any new background to the Russian strategy in providing pilots and increasing numbers of missile technicians to Egypt.

An earlier Soviet response had been declared imprecise and unsatisfactory by American officials and this latest refusal to go into more detail was expected to add to the pressure for a new sale of U.S. warplanes to Israel.

Rogers called in the Soviet ambassador to stress the "seriousness with which we regard the (Mideast) situation, particularly because of the Soviet military involvement," a spokesman said.

Dobrynin agreed with the Secretary of State on the need for "renewed efforts toward achieving a political solution" to the Mideast conflict, the spokesman added.

But the Kremlin envoy, just returned from Moscow, was understood to have given no further explanation of the Soviet buildup beyond the "imprecise and unsatisfactory" response U.S. officials said American Ambassador Jacob Beam received in Moscow a month ago.

Washington wants to know the Soviet intent in sending pilots and modern antiaircraft missiles to Egypt. The administration is concerned over whether the Russians are trying to protect Egypt or planning to help conduct an offensive attack against Israel.

Dobrynin and Asst. Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco, who have met a number of times over past months in a search for a Mideast solution, plan to renew their discussions next week.

Jets for Israel were not a topic in the 40-minute meeting, a spokesman said.

CUNY Open Enrollment Costs $29.7 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Chancellor Albert Bowker of the City University of New York has requested an extra $29.7 million to help pay for an anticipated 30,000 freshmen this fall under open enrollment.

Bowker asked Tuesday that the money be raised equally by the city and state and added to the $312 million budget proposal for the Board of Higher Education.

He testified at the first of three days of public hearings at City Hall on Mayor John V. Lindsay's proposed record expense budget of $7.8 billion for fiscal year 1971.

Bowker suggested the $29.7 million be divided the following way: $15 million to allow the university to continue fees at the present level; $12 million to eliminate the tuition charge on night school students, a source of many student demonstrations; $2.5 million for a special program for disadvantaged high school graduates; and $200.000 for a new adult degree program at Brooklyn College.

Tree Removal Deferred After Demonstrations

WEST WINFIELD, N.Y. UPI — Tree removal activities in this Herkimer County village have been "deferred" by the State Transportation Department pending a meeting tonight between residents and officials.

The issue involves 60 trees lining Route 20 in the village. Some villagers want to save the trees, but the department says they are a safety hazard.

Work continued on the removal of more than 150 trees — mostly old maples — outside the village.

The conflict came to a head Monday when about 100 housewives and high school students demonstrated against the tree cutting. State police arrested seven persons who climbed trees in an effort to stop the work.

Bernard M. Evans, regional department director, announced Tuesday that a meeting had been set up concerning the trees in the village proper.

Evans said the department understood both the safety and asthetic questions involved, and hoped any decision at the meeting would "blend or compromise the two in the best way possible

Evans noted the speed limit in the village was 30 miles per hour, meaning the trees were less of a hazard, while the new limit outside West Winfield under 1970 state legislation was 55 m.p.h.

He also said the trees, as much as 30 inches in diameter, were old and, in some cases, diseased.

A chief landscape architect for the state would attend the meeting, he said.

There was "almost negligible objection to removing the trees outside the village," Evans noted.

Where to Go

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A list of more than 150 summer events of interest to vacationers has been published by the State Department of Commerce in a free pamphlet, "1970 New York State Events."

Sections on the calendar also list major league baseball, harness and horseracing dates, the summer program at the Saratoga Performing Arts Center and the dates of county fairs.

The pamphlet is available from the Commerce Department in Albany or from its regional and branch offices.

Teens Arrested At Border on Drug Charges

ROUSES POINT, N.Y. (UPI) — Three teen-agers were arrested on narcotics charges in two separate incidents on the U.S.-Canadian border before dawn todaym

Authorities said all three youths entered the U.S. from Canada.

Martin J. Kahl, 18, of New York City was arrested by Customs agents on a charge of criminal possession of dangerous drugs in the 4th degree, a felony. He was turned over to state police, arraigned and ordered held in Clinton County Jail at Plattsburgh in bail of $2,000 pending grand jury action.

James P. Keenan, 18, of Chatham, N.J., was arrested two hours later on the same charge and ordered held in $500 bail pending action by the grand jury. Allen M. Goluskin, 16, of Miami Beach, Fla., was charged with criminal possession of dangerous drugs in the 6th degree. He was allowed to plead guilty to a reduced charge fined $50 and released.

Kahl's address was listed as 630 Palmatta St.; Keenan's was 7 Lafayette Place; and Goluskin's was 5775 Collins Ave.

Albany Snow - - $24,000 an Inch To Remove It

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The city of Albany said Tuesday that its snow removal expenditures last winter amounted to a whopping $2.1 million. That is about $24,000 an inch.

The figure was about nine times the amount written into the 1969-70 budget.

The U.S. Weather Bureau reports that the Albany area received 87.7 inches of snow during the season, including more than 26.4 inches that fell during the three days after Christmas.

The average yearly snowfall for the area is 62.8 inches.

The Albany Common Council has been asked to approve a $1.9 million bond issue to cover the expenditure.

Four Patrolmen From City Force Complete Course

KINGSTON

Four patrolmen of the Kingston Police Department satisfactorily completed a basic training course for police officers as specified by the Municipal Police Training Council in a school held recently at Rockland County Community College.

They were Thomas Barringer, Alan Glassman, James Wallace and Richard Ramsdell, who finished seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth in the class. The course, mandated by the state, began April 6 and ended May 22.

At the graduation ceremonies held on the closing day, Police Chief Francis J. Fagan presented certificates to Barringer, Wallace and Ramsdell, and Deputy Chief Julius Glassman presented a certificate to his son, Alan.

Wallace also won an award for efficiency in firearms.

STEEL GIRDER BRIDGE

Sealed proposals will be received by the County Legislature of the County of Ulster, New York at the office of Edward W. Snyder, Clerk, County Office Building, Kingston, New York, until 2 p.m. on the 10th day of June, 1970, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read, for the furnishing of all labor and materials necessary in the construction of a steel girder bridge, complete with concrete abutments, and known as the Powder Mill Bridge, designated as County Bridge No. 197 spanning the Sawkill in the Town of Kingston, Ulster County, New York.

Plans and specifications may be seen in the office of the Clerk of the County Legislature, County Office Building, Kingston, New York, and the copies of same may be secured upon application to George G. Fichtner, Acting Superintendent of Highways, County of Ulster, 25 South Manor Ave., Kingston, New York, upon the deposit of twenty-five dollars, ($25.00), which sum will be refunded if the plans and specifications are returned in good condition by bidders within twenty (20) days of bids having been received and acted upon by the County Legislature, and fifteen dollars ($15.00) of the deposit will be returned to non-bidders.

A certified check upon a National Bank, State Bank or Trust Company in the sum of 10% of the amount of the bid, made payable to the Treasurer of Ulster County, New York, must accompany the bid as a guarantee that the contract will be entered into if awarded.

A labor and material bond will also be required.

A faithful performance bond in the sum of one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price will be required.

Compliance with Section 103a and 103d, with amendments, of the General Municipal law is required.

The County Legislature of Ulster County, New York, reserves the right to reject any or all bids as it may deem to be to the best interests of the County of Ulster, New York.

GEORGE G. FICHTNER
Acting County Superintendent of Highways

Dated: May 20th, 1970

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Kingston Urban Renewal Agency will receive sealed bids under one contract for the demolition of buildings and structures and site clearing of certain parcels located within the boundaries of the Broadway East Urban Renewal Project No. N.Y. R-107, Kingston, New York, as shown on Drawing D-5 - B.E. Demolition Map, and those located within the boundaries of the Uptown Urban Renewal Project No. N.Y. R-121, Kingston, New York, as shown on Drawing D-5 - U Demolition Map.

A list of parcels in both the Broadway East Urban Renewal Project and the Uptown Urban Renewal Project are on file in the office of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, 436 Broadway, Kingston, New York.

The proposal contains Five (5) parcels in the Broadway East Urban Renewal Project and Eighteen (18) parcels in the Uptown Urban Renewal Project for a total of Twenty-three (23) containing structures of various types and sizes including one, two, three, four and five story brick, frame or concrete block buildings of residential, retail and multi-purpose usage as well as concrete block or frame garages, sheds and other outbuildings.

The type, size and location of these structures are indicated on the plans and identified in the specifications which are available to all bidders at the office of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, 436 Broadway, Kingston, New York.

Bid proposals will be received until 2:00 o'clock P.M., Daylight Saving Time on the 12th day of June, 1970 at the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, 436 Broadway, Kingston, New York—12401.

Contract Documents, including Drawings and Technical Specifications, are on file at the office of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, 436 Broadway, Kingston, New York. Copies of the Contract Documents may be obtained by depositing Fifty Dollars ($50.00) with the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency for each set of documents so obtained. Each such deposit will be refunded if the Drawings and Contract Documents are returned in good condition within ten (10) days after the bid opening.

A certified check or bank draft, payable to the order of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, negotiable U.S. Government bonds, or a satisfactory Bid Bond executed by the bidder and an acceptable surety, in an amount equal to ten per cent (10%) of the estimated cost of demolition and site clearance, exclusive of any deductions for salvage, shall be submitted with each bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds in the amount of not less than one-hundred per cent (100%) of the estimated amount. An acceptable surety company is any one included in the latest issue of the U.S. Treasury Department Circular 570 listings.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the Contract Documents must be paid on this project.

The Kingston Urban Renewal Agency reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding. Bids may be held by the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days from the date of the opening of the bids, for the purpose of reviewing the bids and investigating the qualifications of the Bidders, prior to awarding of the contract.

NOTICE OF SALE

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 21st day of May, 1970, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the front door of the County Courthouse, Kingston, New York, on the 26th day of June, 1970, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows:

All that certain 107 lots, pieces, or parcels of land, with the improvements thereon, containing 10,500 acres of land more or less, generally known as "Lake Minnewaska" situate, lying and being in the Ulster County towns of Rochester, Gardiner, New Paltz, Wawarsing and Shawangunk, and partly in the Ulster County villages or hamlets of Ellenville, New Paltz and Kerhonkson, and more fully described in deed from George H. Smiley & Son, Inc. to Lake Minnewaska Mountain Houses, Inc. dated April 19, 1962, and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office on April 20, 1962, in Liber 1120 of deeds at page 646.

There is no map or plot plan of the entire property, but the principal abutting property owners or municipalities are as follows: On the Southwest by the Village of Ellenville and one Bruin; on the Northwest by National Ukrainian Association, Katz, Harris and Countrymon; on the Northeast by Countryman, Schoonmaker, Millikin and Smiley (generally known as Lake Mohonk); on the Southeast by Smiley (Lake Mohonk); Bruin, Town of Shawangunk, Bittner, Branciforte, Town of Gardiner.

Subject to various easements granted to New York Telephone Company and Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. by instruments dated respectively May 21, 1937 and June 3, 1948 and recorded respectively in Ulster County Clerk's Office on August 5, 1937, in Liber 589 of Deeds at page 517 and on June 14, 1949 in Liber 735 of Deeds at Page 328.

Subject also to those rights and privileges which are the subject of a certain leasehold agreement between George H. Smiley & Son, Inc. and Alfred H. Smiley and Ruth H. Smiley, dated February 19, 1958 and recorded in Ulster County Clerk's Office in Liber 1177 of deeds at page 864, as amended by agreement between the same parties dated March 7, 1958.

Subject to the rights of the public to use any public highways which are included in the above description.

Subject also to unpaid taxes due Ulster County, various towns and villages, and various school districts, believed by plaintiff to be in the neighborhood of $80,000, exclusive of interest and penalties. This figure is an estimate and not a warranty by plaintiff or the Referee.

Prospective bidders are urged to check the various tax offices in order to obtain up-to-date figures prior to the sale.

Dear Abby

Perfect-But Not Quite

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I go with this guy who says he loves me, but listen to this. Everytime he shows up, he has garlic or onions on his breath and he knows how much I hate it because I have told him so. No amount of chewing gum, breath freshener, or mouthwash helps. A breath like that really turns me off, Abby. What do you think I should do about it? Don't tell me to find another boyfriend because he is perfect for me in every way but this.

DEBBIE IN THE BRONX

DEAR DEBBIE: Beware of a guy who says he "loves" you but can't resist food that leaves his breath less than lovely. He is obviously more concerned with his own pleasure than yours. Now if you are willing to settle for a "perfect guy" with just one "fault," you have him.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: After going steady with Melvin for three years, we announced our engagement offically, and I started making plans for my wedding.

I thought Melvin's mother would make a perfect mother-in-law because she was always so nice to my face, but listen to this: She called up my mother and said, "I hope Cindy (that's me) won't wear false eyelashes on her wedding day, and please tell her in a nice way that those false hair pieces she should please leave in the drawer, too."

(Abby, I have some very nice hair pieces which Melvin likes on me.) Not knowing what else to say, my mother said, "I will give Cindy the message."

What right has Melvin's mother to tell me how to look on my wedding day? I don't want trouble with her because I love Melvin, but what is your opinion of such a lady?

MELVIN'S BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: I think Melvin's mother is treating you like a "daughter" already.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with your answers, but I disagree with your reply to "THINKING IT OVER." (Her husband is sterile and opposed to artificial insemination, but she wants to be the baby's "natural" mother in preference to adopting a child.) You said, "Tell him that it's easy to be a father, it's more difficult to be a man."

Since "THINKING'S" husband is against the idea of artificial insemination (and I happen to agree with him) then why, for pity's sake, can't this woman bring herself to open her heart to a homeless child who is already on his over-populated earth?

WAUKEGAN MOTHER

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO EVERYBODY: The man who says he doesn't want to become involved in politics is like a drowning man who says he doesn't want to become involved with water. Vote as you please, but PLEASE VOTE. And the time to make sure you are properly registered for that privilege is NOW!

* * *

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Letter writing can be a breeze. For Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Your thinking is logical now and you are able to complete those various activities you have been unable to finish before this. Show allies how big improvements can be made in your everyday affairs in the days ahead. Speak up.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Take care of statements and reports and do those important errands now. Evening is fine for hobbies you enjoy with others. Show more consideration for kin at this time.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be sure you handle money matters wisely so that others will be impressed and pleased, and you add much to present abundance. Improve your budget; see that it is more flexible. Be happy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Out to the social with congenials who appreciate the same type of entertainment as yourself. Go to the beauty or barber shop first. Be sure to handle that correspondence, too.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Clever observation will reveal how to proceed now with whatever is of utmost importance to you. An admirer needs your help now, so be sure to give it. Be devoted to kin this evening.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Ideal day for conversations with those you like and admire. Be out early to the social where you make new contacts also. Don't neglect that correspondence or whatever other important duties you should perform.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan what should be done where civic, career or credit affairs are concerned, then carry through methodically. You now know how to handle outside affairs wisely. Many situations come up to shed light on them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be sure you get all the facts before you try to handle those new conditions that are somewhat baffling. Get busy with correspondence you enjoy doing, also. Evening can be fun with friends.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get right into the work ahead of you and try not to bother others while at it. Don't waste valuable time. Talk with mate about some situation that requires his or her cooperation. Use diplomacy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can make better arrangements with allies, provided you listen to their ideas and state yours clearly. Reach specific aims. Make sure you are fair with others or you limit your success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You get great deal more done if you schedule your time and activities wisely. Complete unfinished jobs. Ask for more aid from co-workers. They will give it to you provided you have a positive attitude.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day for the recreation and romance that appeals to you. Put that particular skill to work right now. Be definite with others and you get good results.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Show consideration and thoughtfulness with close ties and do whatever pleases them. Get rid of whatever causes tensions. Be very sure you get those bills paid so that you and kin need not have further worry.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY.. he or she will be one of those young people to whom anything and everything is interesting and fascinating. Enjoy your child's antics and know that he or she will accomplish a good deal throughout the lifetime, provided you teach early to finish whatever is once started. Send to the right schools, find the forte early, and give benefit of travel. Science could be the major here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

RUNAWAY: (Comment) Lots of girls write you to ask about running away. I didn't write. I just ran away.

I was unhappy at home. I thought my parents were unfair. So I had my girl friend take me to another town one night. I took all my clothes along with me.

She got me a place to stay with three guys. I was there a month. I had a hamburger to eat once in a great while. I was also introduced to drugs.

The next place I lived was with a divorced girl and three boys. They smoked marijuana. We ate pretty well for a week, but the landlord came then and chased us girls away.

Our clothes got wet and we abandoned them. We walked all day that Sunday in pouring rain. We finally called the other girl's mother.

She took us in. She kept us for two days and then gave us money for an apartment. We walked all day in the rain just looking for a place.

We finally found one, got some of our cothes back, washed them, bought groceries, and I got a job and went to work.

It lasted four days.

I found some other jobs, and the other girl did, too. But they didn't last.

We had beer parties and sat around listening to the radio. The food finally ran out, and we were hungry all the time. We had no money, no clean clothes, not even soap to bathe with. And we had to move out because we couldn't pay the rent.

For a while we stayed with a woman, 22, who was divorced and had two children. There was little heat and little food. We couldn't have it because the woman was on welfare and had no food for anybody but the children.

Finally, I swallowed my pride and called my parents. I came home with big holes in the bottoms of my shoes and no coat—it had been stolen. I had lost 14 pounds. I was thankful to be home.—Wiser in Daytona Beach, Fla.

Something for Everybody

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's "First Tuesday," the two-hour magazine format program presented something for almost everybody in this month's edition.

The program started with a long—perhaps too long—piece about Philadelphia's aggressive police commissioner, Frank Rizzo, who rose from the ranks and has little patience with criminals and trouble-makers.

This was followed by a brief but impressive sequence in which a boy whose features and identity were concealed described to an audience of doctors the circumstances of his entrapment by drugs, particularly LSD. His recollections of sensations of "good trips" and "bummers" were fascinating and frightening.

Art lovers and adventure-novel fans must have been held by a portion showing some of the priceless art treasures of the Chinese emperors which were trundled around China for years. A quarter million pieces—ancient bronzes, jade, porcelain, paintings and metals, the best of the collection—are now stored in vaults on Formosa and some are on exhibit in Taiwan's National Palace Museum. Viewers saw some as the narrator told how they were packed in 20,000 crates and hauled around to avoid the Japanese and later the Communists.

There was a real cloak-and-dagger segment as host Sander Vanocur interviewed former Green Beret Capt. Robert Marasco about the spy with whose death Marasco and seven other Special Forces men were charged, although the charges were later dropped.

Marasco, now an insurance salesman, told of heading an espionage mission on the Cambodian border, investigating enemy facilities in the Parrot's Beak. He said that his sources found that Prince Sihanouk, then in power, was in contact with the Viet Cong.

Asked if he killed the agent, Marasco replied, "That is classified for security purposes by the Army and I can't answer."

Two short, lighter pieces did not come off so well, particularly one designed to be a humorous treatment of the efforts of the women's liberation movement to invade stag bars.

Viewers, however, had a very rewarding two hours.

NBC plans a special one-hour program of "Meet the Press" Thursday night on the military activity in Cambodia. Newsmen will question a military spokesman for the Nixon administration during the first part of the program and, during the second half, another panel will question Sen. Frank Church and another senator about the constitutionality of the involvement.

You can't blow hot and cold at the same time. If you use a negative double and want to double for business you must pass and hope for the best. Sometimes this works out well. You get a chance to double one trick higher. On other occasions the bid will get back to your partner. At this point he should make an effort to double for you. Of course, his double will be a normal take-out double but you will convert it to a business double by passing.

South's one spade overcall was a trifle unsound. He might not have made it if he hadn't known that West could only double him for take-out.

North had no bid and now East did double. He had too good a hand to sell out at one spade and was quite happy when West passed.

North and South weren't at all happy at the prospect of playing one spade doubled but they had no place to go and had to suffer.

The defense started out with a rush. East won the diamond lead, cashed his second high diamond and gave his partner a ruff. West led the queen of hearts. Dummy's king lost to West's ace. East cashed the 10 of hearts and led his deuce of spades to his partner's eight. West took his pack of hearts for the seventh defensive trick and led a club. South won with the ace and led a club back.

East won and proceeded to lead his last diamond. South ruffed. West overruffed and led his last club. South ruffed this for his second trick but had to give West the last two.

It had taken mighty good defense to hold South to two tricks but that is what can happen when you make light vulnerable overcalls.

Legislators, UCCC Trustees

Reaffirm Faith in the College

KINGSTON — Members of the Ulster County Legislature and the Board of Trustees of Ulster County Community College Tuesday night reaffirmed to the county's citizens their faith in the community college.

In a joint statement, the two groups announced their support of the college's goals and objectives and their respect for its administration, faculty and students.

Wide Range of Topics

A wide range of topics were discussed at a joint meeting attended by 25 legislators and seven trustees. Also attending were President George B. Erbstein, Dean of Faculty Robert J. Markes and Dean of Administration Robert T. Brown of the college's administration.

The legislators and the trustees issued the following joint statement:

"The Ulster County Legislature and the Board of Trustees of Ulster County Community College reaffirm to the citizens of the county their faith in the college, their support of its goals and objectives and their respect for its administration, faculty and students. During the past year, significant growth and progress have been evident, both in instructional areas and in services to the community. The year was climaxed by national recognition of the college in the form of unconditional accreditation.

A Time of Stress

"During the month of May, events occurred which produced a time of great stress on campuses throughout the country. It is to the credit of Ulster County Community College that there was no violence, no destruction of property nor any instance of personal injury on its campus during this period of tension.

"The County Legislators and the Board of Trustees commend the administration, faculty and students of Ulster County Community College for creating a climate in which instruction continued without interrruption and with full opportunity for expression of the democratic principles of peaceful dissent," the Joint Statement concluded.

2 Firemen Overcome At Saugerties Blaze

SAUGERTIES — Two Saugerties volunteer firemen were overcome by smoke early Tuesday night as they battled a blaze that destroyed the first floor of a two-story frame dwelling on Elizabeth Street in Saugerties.

Woodstock and West Hurley firefighters also battled a fire last night on Hasbrouck Lane in the village of Woodstock.

Second Assistant Ernest Dunn and John Freligh both suffered smoke inhalation as they attempted to bring the Saugerties fire under control. Fire officials reported that the blaze started in a downstairs bedroom of the nine-room house occupied by the B. J. Squires family. The fire burned out the entire lower floor while the second story had smoke and water damage, the fire report said.

Dunn was taken to Benedictine Hospital and placed under 48-hour observation. His condition was listed as fair. Freligh was examined by doctors at the scene and later released, it was reported.

Three fire companies responded to the 6:20 p.m. alarm, that is currently under investigation by the fire department. The cause has not yet been determined. There were no other injuries reported. The Squires family was not at home at the time of the fire, fire officials added.

Four fire companies responded to an alarm at 11:15 p.m. Tuesday night in Woodstock. Officials noted that a frame house on Hasbrouck Lane was gutted by the fire. The cause has not been determined. Responding to the alarm were companies 1, 2 and 4 from Woodstock and volunteers from the West Hurley Fire Department.

Jury Selection Continuing In Culhane-McGivern Trial

KINGSTON — Selection of a trial jury in the murder case of Charles Culhane and Gerald McGivern continued today before County Judge Raymond J. Mino. The 12 potential jurors temporarily seated are subject to be excused later.

While the District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca was examining jurors he commented that he is just a small town district attorney and not from New York City. Counsel for Culhane moved for a mistrial after the remark. His motion was denied by Judge Mino.

Interviewing of potential trial jurors by counsel moved slowly Tuesday afternoon and before court recessed at 4:30 p.m. only 14 jurors had been examined.

The murder trial gets under way at 1 p.m. following conferences between Judge Mino, District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca and defense attorneys. Motions by counsel were denied by the Court.

The jury box was filled with potential jurors, 10 men and two women, shortly after the trial started. One woman was excused with approval of both sides, and a man was excused after he said he felt he would be influenced by published reports he had read following the shooting incident near the Plattekill rest area on the State Thruway.

McGivern appeared in court attired in a light green plaid jacket, matching necktie and a white shirt and slacks. Culhane had no jacket and his white shirt was opened at the collar. Both defendants appeared calm throughout the afternoon session and conferred frequently with their attorneys.

McGivern held a yellow paper pad and made notes while jurors were being examined.

Torraca examined the jurors first. He briefly explained details of the shooting during which William Fitzgerald, a Westchester County deputy sheriff was fatally wounded in the alleged escape try by Culhane, McGivern and Robert Bowerman, three prisoners who were being transported from Auburn Prison to White Plains for a hearing in County Court the day of the fatal shootout on Sept. 13, 1968. Bowerman also was killed in the shootout.

The prosecutor noted in his remarks that capital punishment had been abolished in New York State in 1965, except in murder cases where a law enforcement officer was killed. Torraca asked the jurors if any were opposed to capital punishment and all remained silent. He asked if any jurors would have any hesitancy in returning a verdict of guilty as charged if the People prove the case beyond a reasonable doubt.

Paul Vladimir, counsel for Culhane, during examination of jurors noted that their verdict would decide whether the defendants would live or die. Conviction could result in the death penalty, it was noted.

"Would you want to hear the defendant's story?" the attorney asked a juror, who replied that he would. Vladimir said that he didn't know whether Culhane would take the witness stand, and commented that he, the attorney, had not as yet decided whether his client would testify. The juror said he would not hold it against the defendant if he didn't take the stand but would base his verdict on testimony produced at trial.

During his remarks Torraca said he planned to call only five witnesses for the prosecution. He named them as Dr. Richard Gershon, pathologist, Deputy Sheriff Joseph Singer, who survived the shootout, Senior BCI Investigator Charles Teelon, and a Trooper Maisel of the State Police. The fifth witness will be an official from the Department of Correction, who was not named.

Hearing Held On St. Remy Fire Engine

ST. REMY — A public hearing was held Tuesday night by the St. Remy Fire District on a proposal for the expenditure of $30,000 for the purchase of a fire engine.

It was reported that the consensus of those attending the hearing was in favor of the proposal.

Voting on a bond issue for the fire engine will be held June 23.
